15-POINT PLAN SET FOR PARLEY OF GOVERNORS

Dewey and Bricker Map Program for St. Louis Conference.

By The Associated Press

N. Y., July 27—An 8-point program of Republican governorship next week, Gov. Dewey pledged today to end the disgraceful political bickering and bitterness between the executive and legislative branches of the government."

Dewey, Republican presidential nominee, made the pledge at a press conference with Gov. Bricker of Ohio, GOP vice presidential nominee, at his apartment on the issues of the campaign.

Dewey said the conference in St. Louis starting Aug. 2 would "survey the field of "conflict" between federal, state and local governments.

"There has been a constant state of friction for 12 years in many areas now," Dewey said. "Certain people are spending their time quarreling each other over the question of jurisdiction and conflict between the federal, local and state governments to make up a political issue.

"There are as many people are disturbed over this subject as there should be in the federal government that were possible," Dewey said as Bricker sat beside him on the executive mansion porch and nodded agreement.

See First Obligation

The Republican nominee said Governor Bricker conceded that one of our first obligations is to bring agreement out of this confusion problem "it will not be enough to unite the Republican party as it goes before the people—we also will unite the viewpoints of the 26 states headed by Republican governors where preparations of the American people will."

That means Dewey said, "that the disgraceful spectacle of petty bickering and constant warfare between the various units of government will come to an end on next Jan 20."

Finally ejaculated Bricker.

Dewey said the following subjects would be considered by the Republican governors.

1 Public expenditures.

2 Public health.

3 Administration of unemployment insurance.

4 Administration of employment services "which were surrendered by these states to the federal government in the war emergency."

5 Relationship of unemployment and unemployment services.

6 Credit, including the sphere of private and national influence.

7 Public works—the extent of execution by national government and assistance by national government by states and locally.

8 Highways, including transcontinental roads and national defense projects.

9 Regulation of all kinds of insurance.

10 Ownership and use of natural resources (Dewey said there are areas where the federal government owns 80 per cent of the land, posing a question of policy. Bricker named Wyoming, Utah, Nevada and other western states most seriously affected.)

11 Water and flood control, including irrigation of natural resources.

12 National guard, including the question of its continuance as a component to the regular army or navy, and of its permanent status.

13 Federal and state tax collections, including the special problem of overlapping and the question of tax collections and distribution between local and federal governments.

14 Agriculture, including the extent of government aids, soil conservation programs and conservation to be locally or nationally directed.

15 Foreign affairs.

Dewey told reporters he did not say the conflict between state and federal governments would become "a major issue in the campaign," he said the governors conference would initiate an important study of the Republican party's Death Closes Long Career in Official and Civic Service.

Hector S. Young, Marion county common pleas judge, died at 3:36 a. m. today in Mt. Carmel hospital at Columbus.

Death was caused by pulmonary embolism, a blood clot that settled in the pulmonary system, interrupting what had appeared to be a steady recovery from an abdominal operation he underwent a week ago today.

Apparently gaining ground after the operation, he suffered the new complication early last night, became critically ill about 7 o'clock and his condition continued to become worse until the time of his death.

Mrs. Young and a daughter, Miss Mildred Young, had been at his bedside since the time of the operation.

The operation Judge Young underwent a week ago was for the same ailment that confined him to the Marion City hospital for 10 days last June. He rallied from that illness, but three weeks ago entered Mt. Carmel hospital for treatment when the trouble returned.

JUDGE HECTOR S. YOUNG

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. at the Schaffner-Denzer funeral home on East Center street with Rev. Howard L. Olewiler, pastor of First Presbyterian church, officiating. Burial will be in Marion cemetery.

The family has announced that friends may call at the funeral home after 8 tonight until 1 p. m. Saturday, and that funeral services will be private except for members of the bar association and courthouse officials and employes.

His death closed a career of public service and private law practice that closely paralleled that of his late father, Judge Boston G. Young. Both father and son practiced law in Marion, both served the county as prosecuting attorney, both were elected common pleas judge and both died while holding judgeships. Both served as directors of the Ohio State Life Insurance Co. and both were prominent in civic and business affairs of the city.

Graduate of Michigan

Judge Young was born 55 years ago in Marion, attended Marion public schools, was active in high school sports and after graduation and a year spent in the west in the interests of his health and the health of a late sister, Ethel went to the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor. He was graduated in 1911 with a bachelor of arts degree and from the law school there in 1913.

He practiced law with the late Judge Charles L. Justice until the latter was elected common pleas judge, and the firm, known for a time as Justice, Young & Mouser, later became Mouser Young & Mouser.

From 1917 to 1921 he served as prosecuting attorney.

He was a member of the city board of education and served as its clerk for many years, being obliged to relinquish his membership on the board when he became judge.

Appointed in 1934

When the late Judge George B. Scofield died in the fall of 1934, Judge Young was appointed, to take his place, and the same year was elected to a six-year term. He has occupied the common pleas bench since that time.

With the judgeship came many duties in addition to the various business and civic activities in which Judge Young had taken part for years. One of his new tasks that came with the war was to serve by virtue of his office as chairman of the Selective Service Nominating board for Marion county, along with Probate Judge Oscar Gast and James C. Woods. These men nominated all of the county's draft board members for appointment by selective service officials. Another wartime job that came to him was working with the office of price administration in the early days of its operations when all work was handled on a volunteer basis. He also had a prominent part in the organization and operation of the Civilian Defense Council in Marion county, serving as coordinator for the rural areas of the county.

Active Y. M. C. A. Leader

He was president of the Y. M. C. A. six and a half years, from January 1936 to June 1942, was vice president at the time of his death, and for many years had served as a member of the Y. board. Among his recent activities was service as chairman of the Y. M. C. A. board which cooperated in establishment of the Club Co-Ed, new youth recreation center.

Last year he served as president of the Ohio Association of Common Pleas Judges. He is a former president of the Marion County Bar association and by virtue of his judgeship in recent years had been president of the Marion County Law Library association.

His business connections included membership on the board of directors of the Ohio State

U. S. Bombers Raid Belgium

German Targets at Brussels and Ghent Hit; Italy Based Planes Active.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, July 27—American Liberators attacked Belgian military targets in the Brussels and Ghent areas today and Berlin said other U. S. bomber formations from Italy made a "terror attack" on the Hungarian capital of Budapest amid great air battles.

Lowered clouds and squalls limited tactical aerial operations in Normandy. During the night, British nearlies bombed the rail center of Givors-Baden, 12 miles south of Lyon in southeast France. Mosquitos kept Hamburg awake, bombed other German targets for the fourth night running and harassed troop movements in Normandy.

Up to 250 Liberators, with an equal escort of fighters, struck in Belgium in the same general area where Thunderbolts late yesterday hurled high explosives and incendiaries on dozens of rail targets. Brussels and Ghent both are rail bottlenecks leading from Germany to Normandy. A single bomber and one fighter were lost to flak today; no fighters rose to challenge.

Berlin said both German and Hungarian planes challenged the U. S. 15th air force raiders over Budapest, intercepting long before the armada reached the target area.

Great Fires Started

Great fires were left licking at Givors-Baden last night in the concentrated attack pressed into a quarter hour.

Six heavy bombers were lost in the thrust that carried the RAF fleet across France to a point about 80 miles southwest of Lake Geneva, and immediately north of an area which had been under attack by Italian based allied bombers frequently last month.

Givors-Baden is a distributing point for all traffic moving north and west to Paris and the Normandy front, as well as south to German defenses on the French Mediterranean coast.

Yesterday's combat score was 16 German planes downed for a loss of 13 allied aircraft. Most of the enemy planes were accounted for by RAF pilots of the second tactical air force, who

YANK TROOPS SEIZE FOURTH OF TINIAN ISLE

Jap Losses Now 1,958 Dead with 2,800 More Killed on Guam in Five Days.

By The Associated Press

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, PEARL HARBOR, July 27—Yanks overrunning the Marianas have captured the north fourth of Tinian, with its 4,500-foot Ushi airfield, and today strove to annihilate doomed Japanese half way out on Guam's Orote peninsula in a bid for a 4,700-foot airfield and the Sumay naval base.

Four hundred Japs were slaughtered and 12 tanks destroyed Monday night in breaking up an attempt to burst through the Orote trap. That made 2,800 Japs killed at Guam in five days.

Tuesday the Yanks rolled 3,000 yards out on the Peninsula over the recoiling Nips to the outskirts of the town of Sumay. Twelve miles of Guam's west coast comprise the American beachhead which extends in strength in behind the highly prized harbor of Port Apra.

1,958 Japs Killed

On Tinian, Marine conquerors of nearby Saipan have killed 1,958 Japs in three days. Rembert James, Associated Press war correspondent, said the fighting spirit of these Marines is exemplified by the fact that 5,000 of them were back in action after recovering from wounds on Saipan. Many of these could have been evacuated to hospitals but preferred to remain in the Marianas.

On the northwest tip of Tinian is the Ushi point airfield which, together with repair shops, barracks and other installations, is rated the equal of Hawaii's Hickam Field.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz issued two communiques last night on the Guam and Tinian successes. Neither supported a Tokyo Wednesday claim, reported by Berlin, that "two more landing attempts were carried out by the enemy today on Guam."

The first communique, featuring progress on Tinian, said a battleship had knocked out several camouflaged blockhouses and that Thunderbolts, based on Saipan, had spread fire bombs among coastal guns and barracks. Other Thunderbolts ranged into the north Marianas to hit the enemy airfield on Pagan island.

The second communique, confined to the Guam operation, said

FOUR GENERALS LOST BY NAZIS

Two Probably Shot in Revolt, Reds Take One, Another Meets Accident.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, July 27—Four more German generals have been added to the swiftly lengthening list of Nazi command casualties in 24 hours.

The Russians announced the capture of Lt. Gen. Moser-Hillmann, commandant of fallen Lublin. He was their 26th captured general of the summer offensive.

Lt. Gen. Wilhelm Gramm "met with a fatal accident," probably at Munich, the Berlin radio said last night. American bombs shattered that Nazi shrine city last week.

Col. Gen. Freiherr Geyer Von Schweppenburg, commander of a German tank division in Normandy, was reported by the Stockholm Morgon Tidningen to have been shot.

Gen. Von Machenfeldt was arrested in the Hitler bomb plot, the same newspaper said.

Propaganda Minister Goebbels hinted at sudden death for yet a number of other ranking officers in his utterances last night. He mentioned as conspirators, presumably shot or under arrest, a general "who up to then had been prominent in sabotaging all decisions in the war," a colonel general, "who often had physical breakdowns," and another colonel general who excuted a "cowardly retreat." He did not identify them or specifically mention their fate, although he said the principal plotters against Hitler had been killed.

Olbricht was shot after a court martial, the broadcast said.

Beck was said to have committed suicide when arrested.

Hoepner was reported under arrest awaiting trial.

The Berlin account said these were the three mentioned by Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph

Americans Drive 3 Miles Deeper Into Nazi Lines

Gains Made in Six Hours; Advance Patrols Reach Road Center of Periers.

By The Associated Press

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, July 27—American doughboy and tank teams penetrating German defenses south of St. Lo have gained three miles in the last six hours, while advanced patrols reached the road center of Periers.

Fanning out eastward from St. Gilles and Canisy, they began closing a trap on Germans in a bend of the Vire river below St. Lo, capturing Le Mesnil Herman, six miles south of St. Lo and nine miles from their jumpoff point.

The Americans had seized Canisy in this advance and cut the road running south from St. Lo to Percy along the baseline of the Cherbourg peninsula.

To the east, allied headquarters announced, patrols entered Periers, central stronghold of the German line stretching to the sea, and were at a point 10 miles north of Coutances.

The armored spearhead pushing southwest of St. Lo had driven so deep, however, that it was closer to Coutances than the Periers force. Fanning out westward from Marigny, this force advanced nearly a mile along the St. Lo-Coutances road to within nine miles of Coutances.

Advance East of St. Lo

To the east, between St. Lo and Caumont, the Americans also scored sharp advances, throwing the Germans back two miles since last night and capturing Mouffet, five miles west of Caumont, as well as laying firm hold on Berigny to the rear.

This advance severed the Caumont-St. Lo road.

Field dispatches said the whole German rear had been disorganized by the rapid smashes into the Nazi lines, and prisoners were being garnered by the hundreds.

The infantry was said to be moving up in an almost solid line from Marigny to Canisy in the wake of the slashing tank columns whose commanders directed circling planes to attack objectives as they chose.

Fighter planes alone were said to have wrecked or damaged 70 Nazi tanks yesterday.

But on the British-Canadian flank in Normandy, the Germans hit with tanks, artillery and mortar fire. They recaptured Esquay, seven miles southwest of Caen, and blood-soaked hills 112 and 113, headquarters and field reports said. Due south of Caen, the British Second army held on to Verrieres, smashing enemy counterattacks.

Lt.-Gen. Omar N. Bradley's American First army battlefront had broadened to 40 miles. Doughboys won a town northeast

Lt. Gen. McNair Killed in France By Enemy Fire

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 27—Lt. Gen. Lesley J. McNair, 61, until recently commanding general of the army ground forces, has been killed by enemy action in Normandy.

Once called "the brains of the army" by Gen. George C. Marshall, McNair is the highest ranking American officer killed in action in the present war.

A war department announcement here said:

"The war department has been notified of the death of Lt. Gen. Lesley J. McNair. General McNair was killed by enemy fire while observing the action of our front line units in the recent offensive."

On July 14 the army announced that McNair had been given an important overseas assignment, the nature of which was not disclosed, and that Lt. Gen. Ben Lear had succeeded him in command of the army ground forces.

A war department announcement here said:

"The war department has been notified of the death of Lt. Gen. Lesley J. McNair, General McNair was killed by enemy fire while observing the action of our front line units in the recent offensive."

On July 14, the army announced that McNair had been given an important overseas assignment, the nature of which was not disclosed, and that Lt. Gen. Ben Lear had succeeded him in command of the army ground forces.

McNair, who was 61, was responsible for the training of the ground forces now in action overseas, and was regarded as one of the Army's most brilliant officers. Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff, once called him "the brains of the Army."

He was chief of staff of general headquarters in Washington when the Army was reorganized in 1942, and became commanding general of the ground forces, one of the three top commanders under the chief of staff.

In April, 1943, during an inspection tour of the Tunisian front, he was wounded by shell fragments.

McNair was one of the early advocates of building up a method of anti-tank defenses, particularly the highly mobile self-propelled, hard-hitting guns that came to be known as tank destroyers.

Commenting on the general's death, General Marshall said: "The American army has sustained a great loss in the death of General McNair."

"Had he had the choice," said Marshall, "he would probably have elected to die as he did, in the forefront of the attack.

"His presence on the firing line with the leading element in the great assault which has just been launched on the American front in Normandy, was indicative of his aggressive and fearless spirit and should be an inspiring example to the forces of our great ground army which he organized and trained."

McNair was the designer of the training program that produced combat units in World war II which fought like veterans in their first battles. He was credited with streamlining the old "square" division of nearly 20,000 men into the "triangular" infantry division of 15,000 and was among the original group of officers who foresaw the need for developing the tank destroyer after the Nazis had exploited the tank's use in Poland and the low countries.

In the reorganization of the Army in March of 1942, grouping military functions into three basic units—ground forces, air forces and service of supply—Lieutenant General McNair was selected by Gen. Marshall, chief of staff, to head the ground forces.

He instilled into his men that in war it was "kill or be killed." In a broadcast address on Armistice day of 1942 he told the

Marion Seaman Wounded in Action

Elmer William "Widge" Leffler, 32, seaman 1st class, U. S. Navy, has been wounded in action in the invasion battle area, a telegram from the Navy department notified his wife, Mrs. E. W. Leffler, of 342 Pearl street, Wednesday. The telegram did not state the extent of his wounds nor the date on which he was wounded.

He entered service in January this year and, following his training at the Naval Training station, Great Lakes, Ill., went overseas in April. He was in England and in a letter received by his wife on July 8 told of seeing the first robot plane attack. Prior to going into service he was employed as a meatcutter at the City Ice & Fuel Co. plant.

Seaman Leffler is the son of Mrs. Elmer Leffler of 235 South Main street. He has a brother, Eugene F. Leffler, T/3, who is with an Army medical detachment in New Guinea.

E BOND GOAL NEAR IN COUNTY'S DRIVE

Plea for Final Purchases Made; 2 Days To Go.

With the deadline for the Fifth War Loan drive only hours away and Marion county's E bond sale right at the hurdle, the war bond committee today is appealing to citizens to step into their favorite bank or other issuing agency and "purchase another bond" to boost the figures over $819,000, the county's E bond quota in the present drive.

When the figures were totaled on yesterday's sales, bond purchasers had bought $817,542, or 99.8 per cent of the E bond total.

Purchases in the amount of $1,500 during the next two days will send the E bond total skyrocketing over the assigned quota, the bond committee stated today. The citizens of Marion city and county have done a grand job in putting this fifth war loan over and the response has been generous, they said, in making their final appeal, and expressed the belief that by deadline Saturday the full quota would be reached.

The county's quota of $3,365,000, has been topped by more than two million dollars, figures show.

MARION WOMAN'S SON WAR VICTIM

Pfc. Charles W. Fultz Killed in Action in France.

Pfc. Charles William Fultz, 27, of Visalia, Calif., son of Mrs. Cornelia Fultz of 120 South High street, was killed in action somewhere in France, June 22, according to word received from his wife, Mrs. Lois Kenaston Fultz of Visalia. Overseas since Jan. 1, this year, he was stationed in England until the invasion. He enlisted Aug. 7, 1942 and prior to going into service was employed for more than two years with the Superior Olive Plant there.

Pfc. Fultz was born in Delaware, O., March 23, 1918 and prior to going to California in 1931, lived in Marion and attended the local schools. He was graduated from the Ventura, Calif., High school. Before going overseas he was stationed at Camp Wolters, Tex., Fort Dix, N. J., Camp Gordon, Fla., and in Georgia and South Carolina.

Surviving are the widow, his mother, a brother, Howard Fultz of 120 South High street, a sister, Mrs. Frieda Kathleen Hanley of Columbus and three half-sisters, Mrs. Leveda Wion of 120 South High street, Mrs. Audrey Tenner of Agosta and Mrs. Doris Johnson of Hilliards.

WHOLE GERMAN CENTRAL FRONT IS THREATENED

River Is Last Strong Natural Barrier Before Russians Reach Nazis' Border.

BULLETIN

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 27—A BBC broadcast heard by NBC said today that Russian troops in one sector are 38 miles from Warsaw.

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, July 27—Russian infantry was reported storming across the Vistula river southeast of Warsaw today in thousands of amphibious craft covered by massed artillery fire, negotiating the last great natural barrier before German Silesia and gravely threatening the whole German central front on the level plains.

Warsaw already could hear the first sounds of approaching battle, the Moscow newspaper Izvestia said, quoting advices from the underground.

Crossing of the 600-foot wide Vistula was in the Deblin-Pulawi region 37 to 60 miles southeast of the greatest Polish city (which had a peacetime population of 1,265,700). The surge across the stream posed an outflanking threat to the city. The area of the penetration is 355 airline miles from Berlin on an historic invasion route. It is 110 miles from the border of German Silesia.

Russian Cossacks, tanks, infantry and cannon reached the east bank of the river yesterday on a 30-mile front, driving before them the tattered and haggard Germans. Nazi rearguards fled to the west bank soon afterward and were enveloped in a cataphony of massed artillery and mortar fire.

Polish Troops on March

"Polish troops are advancing beside the victorious Red army," Izvestia said. "Deblin is liberated already and the capital of Warsaw listens to the remote detonation of artillery."

By capturing Delayitn in the Carpathian foothills 20 miles from the Czech border, the Red army forced a threat to both Rumania and Hungary, uneasy German puppet states.

At the top of the 1,000-mile undulating front, the capture of the bastion of Narva (pop: 24,000) and the third city of Estonia) and an advance beyond, carried Soviet lines within 100 miles of Tallinn. The fall of Narva opened the way for a swift advance along the Gulf of Finland. It was cracked by the eighth great army group now in action, the Leningrad forces of Marshal Leonid A. Govorov.

The Russians captured their 26th German general.

(The German communique finally announced the fall of Lublin and Narva and asserted Russian attacks were repelled in the Stanislawow, Brest Litovsk, Bialystok and Kaunas areas. The Germans said they still clung to Lwow.)

Five, perhaps six, German garrisons were besieged. Most were miles behind the advanced Russian lines. Those were Lwow, where street fighting was prolonging the battle toward a bloody denouement, at Stanislawow north of Delayitn; Brest Litovsk; Daugavpils, Bialystok and probably at Kaunas.

German Cities Bombed

Battle front troops were within 100 miles of the German cities of Memel and Tilsit, the latter a target of Russian bombs during the night. Riga, on the Latvia shore, was 65 miles north of the advancing Red army. The Suwalki triangle (of east Prussia through 1939 annexation) was three miles away and the pre-war east Prussian border within 25 miles.

The Polish cities of Krakow, Lodz and Radom were within striking distance and across plains easily negotiated by masses of tanks, cavalry and trucks which the Red army has at its disposal, partly through U. S. lend-lease. Lodz, second city of Poland with 665,000 population, was 95 miles from the front. Krakow (254,600 and fifth largest city) was the same distance away. Radom was within 25 miles.

Warsaw was threatened not only from the southeast but from the east as well.

Meanwhile capture of the Estonian city of Narva and neighboring towns on the south shore of the gulf of Finland split the north Baltic front wide open, and additional successes were gained in the Stanislawow and Kolomya sectors on the routes to Czechoslovakia. In all, the Moscow communique announced the capture of more than 500 towns.

Front dispatches said poor flying weather, which would hamper operations ordinarily, did not hold back thousands of fighters, fighter

Shot from Jap Pistol Kills Coshocton Man

By The Associated Press

A federal program of public works is needed in the transition period to carry the nation from war boom days to a level of economic stability in the years to come, Marion county voters will have a chance to decide what projects they might like to have included in it, a check-up made by The Star shows.

Although there has been little official action to set up such a federal program, like the public work projects that were used to stimulate employment in the depression years, many federal, state and municipal officials believe such a program probably will be necessary for at least a short time because factories can't change overnight from war goods to consumer goods, and any period of widespread unemployment, even if it lasted only a few months, might seriously interfere with preparations for a stable economy after the war.

If the pattern of the past is followed, the federal government will encourage such a program with federal funds on a matching basis with local subdivisions to help speed work on deserving public projects which would have enduring benefits for large numbers of people. Mindful of the fact that Marion county took comparatively little advantage of the federal sponsorship program in the past, officials are determined now that if another such program develops, Marion county voters will at least have an opportunity to decide whether they want local projects included.

City, school and county officials already have been making their own individual preparations for a possible federal public works program, and have been in contact with one another so that a coordinated program of proposed projects may be submitted to the voters when the proper time comes. The Marion Chamber of Commerce has also been active in helping plan such a program. The entire program would be subject to voters' approval of bond issues to finance the sponsors' share of the costs.

Suggested Projects

A city school building program, a municipally-owned city hall, a modern school gymnasium, a modern airport, a public auditorium, modernization of the city sewage treatment works, correction of the city's ailing sewer system and county road projects are among some of the things officials have quietly discussed among themselves as possible projects.

Many other projects have been mentioned but officials are already confronted with the task of trimming a proposed program to keep it from becoming unwieldly. As now envisoned, the program would be submitted to the voters at one time, but with the projects on different ballots so that each could be considered separately, but since the aggregate of the proposed projects is being set up more or less as one big program, officials are anxious that it not be so big and the cost so burdensome that the voters would reject the whole thing.

Most Essential First

In sifting the projects to make certain the most deserving ones are at the top of the list, officials and other persons closely in touch with public activities have spoken most frequently about a modern gymnasium and a modern airport. Without a gymnasium, high school basketball in Marion must continue under severe handicaps with no adequate floor for home games. A modern gym also probably would become the home of the annual county basketball tournaments and might even bring district tournaments to Marion. A modern airport is generally recognized as a "must" for Marion if this city is to participate in the rapid expansion of air passenger and cargo hauling that is certain to come after the war, with airline companies preparing to lace the nation with air routes. The Chamber of Commerce aviation committee had been studying Marion's post-war aviation needs for several months and is still busy gathering material in preparation for specific recommendations.

It is expected that first steps for a modern gymnasium will come from city school officials, who feel that need most keenly, and that an adequate gym might be proposed as part of a new modern high school building, to relieve overcrowded conditions in the schools. Mention of a possible school building program inevitably brings to mind the repeated proposals that Central Junior High school be eliminated because of its noisy location and the condition of the building.

Possible School Program

A school building program that might include a combined new high school, gymnasium, modern auditorium and junior high school is a possibility, along with a new junior high school in the northern part of the city.

Inclusion of an auditorium in this possible school proposal—one large enough to seat crowds of 2,000 to 2,500 persons—will receive the backing of many Marion groups and organizations that have been virtually prevented from inviting sizeable conventions and nationally known stage talent to Marion because of the lack of stage and seating facilities. Locating the auditorium as a wing of a proposed new school center would, officials pointed out, assure janitorial and maintenance attention for it.

If a school building program including a new high school would be favorably received by the voters, it might clear the way for the use of the Harding High school building for the present junior high school pupils, thus relieving the overcrowded conditions at the Central Junior High school for many years. A gymnasium and payment of some of the cost of a new high school might be provided from the proceeds of the sale of the present Central Junior High school property, which is regarded as adequate and satisfactory for many years.

The sewage treatment and sewer problems of Marion are likely to receive some attention in some form or another in the near future, and if the work can be done as a project that could attract some federal aid, plans of officials are expected to be worked up as part of a program. The sewage plant, neglected for several years, needs extensive rehabilitation. Officials have stated many times that the city's sewer system, with serious faults in the old, will need overhauling.

Definite Setup Coming

Although most of the proposed projects are now in the "talking" stage, it is expected continued conference among officials the Chamber of Commerce and other interested groups will bring about definite submission of a definite group of projects to present to the voters.

As one official put it, "these improvements don't mean any more to the officials than they do to any other citizen, and they aren't being proposed with the thought of 'selling them to anyone. As far as officials are concerned, they feel it a part of their duty to propose these projects so that the voters may express themselves. If the officials didn't set up a program, the voters wouldn't even have the opportunity to make a choice. Many persons feel Marion should have taken advantage of federal work programs in the past to get needed public improvements. Nothing can be done about the past, but we can make sure Marion county voters can have a chance to say in the future whether they want some projects included in a possible post-war federal program. We had to help pay for the last program, although we have few projects to show for it. It's up to Marion to decide whether that experience will be repeated."

Collett Quietly Spends Day First Set for Execution

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 27—James W. Collett, former well-to-do Clinton county hog raiser, unconcernedly whiled away the hours in Ohio penitentiary death row yesterday—the day he originally was sentenced to be executed for the triple McCoy murders.

Warden Frank D. Henderson said the 61-year-old prisoner told him he had no desire for company, although for 117 days Collett has lived in virtual solitude behind bars of the grim midtown prison.

Collett's wife, Laura, and their son, Thomas, each have visited him once. No one else, except prison officials, has broken his solitude. Collett consistently has refused to be interviewed by newsmen.

Before him stretch at least 76 more days during which he will be shut off from the outside world.

An appeal from his conviction, automatically staying death in the electric chair, originally scheduled yesterday, has been lodged with the appellate court but that tribunal does not convene until Oct. 10.

Henderson said the frail prisoner spent most of his hours thumbing a small Bible he brought with him when he entered prison last March 31.

Collett was inclined to be "troublesome" at first in demanding special favors, the warden said, but added that he had

Barry Karl Hill was honored on his fifth birthday anniversary with a party given Monday afternoon by his mother, Mrs. B. K. Hill Jr., of 375 North State street. Ice cream and cake were served to Noan Shoup, Ruth Ann Miller, Ellen and Gary Quay, David Galton, Pat Hartman, Billy Jenner, Dicky and Roger Ruhl, Buddy Tone, Johnny Perry and Larry Jones. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. B. K. Hill Sr., Mrs. J. P. Hartman, Mrs. E. V. Shoup and Miss Harriet Dixon.

Miss Mary Ellen Young, daughter of Mrs. Ira Young of 325 Owens street, became the bride of Harold Fry, seaman first class U. S. Coast Guard, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Fry of Oxford, Monday evening, July 24 at 8 o'clock. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Garrison Roebuck in the First United Brethren church.

The bride wore a navy blue dress with matching accessories. She was attended by her sister, Miss Ruth Young. The bride's brother, Ralph O. Young, served as best man.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. and Mrs. Cavada O'Dell and son Richard have returned to their home in Watertown, N. Y., after spending a week with Mr. O'Dell's stepfather, and mother, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Gore of Henry street, and Mrs. O'Dell's sister, Mrs. John Newman of East Center street, and other relatives.

Thomas Mullett, Aviation Cadet Married at Yale

On Saturday evening, July 22, at 7:30 p. m. Miss Ellen Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Miller of Lebanon, O., became the bride of Aviation Cadet Thomas Alan Mullett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy T. Mullett of 663 King avenue.

The ceremony was performed in Dwight chapel at Yale university, New Haven, Conn., by Chaplain James A. Calloway of the United States Army, in the presence of the immediate families and a few close friends.

A program of nuptial music preceded the ceremony.

The bride wore a white gabardine dressmaker suit, with a large white starched lace hat and all white accessories. Her corsage was an orchid.

Mrs. E. L. Miller of Arlington, Va., sister-in-law of the bride, was her only attendant. She wore a suit of dusty rose crepe with a corsage of gardenias. Ensign Robert P. Mullett, U. S. N., brother of the groom, was best man.

A wedding supper followed the ceremony, after which the couple left on a short honeymoon.

The bride, a graduate of Lebanon High school, and a former student at Ohio State university, is now a cadet nurse at the Christ hospital in Cincinnati. She will return there in September to complete her training.

The groom is a graduate of Harding High school, an alumnus of Purdue university, and a member of Pi Tau Sigma, national honorary engineering fraternity. He enlisted in the Army Air Corps and entered the service July 5, 1943. He is enrolled in an advanced course in airplane maintenance at Yale university.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Hockensmith of Pittsburgh, Pa., accompanied the groom's parents to New Haven.

Committees For Altrusa Club's New Year Named

Ohio Woman To Wed U. S. Navy Admiral

By The Associated Press

FREMONT, O., July 25—(AP)—Admiral John W. Greenslade, in charge of naval logistics on the west coast, and Mrs. Alma R. Gunther, 39, obtained a marriage license today.

Stationed at San Francisco, the officer maintains a home here. The marriage will be his third and Mrs. Gunther's second. She holds a secretarial position in Fremont.

HONORED ON BIRTHDAY

Friends and relatives met at the Old Ruth homestead east of Marion Sunday to celebrate the eightieth birthday of Mrs. Christena Peterson of 637 Miami street at noon. The afternoon was spent socially and with a short program of readings and music. Mrs. Peterson's birthday falls on July 27.

CHOSEN AS POWERS MODEL

A Toledo girl, daughter of a former Marion resident, has been selected by John Powers as a model, relatives here have been informed. The young lady, Miss Madelyn Tonguet Brayer, is the daughter of Mrs. Myrtle Brayer of Toledo, and is a grand niece of Mrs. Elsie Carey of North Main street and Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Tonguet of North Vine street.

Miss Brayer, who is five 11½ inches tall and weighs 130 pounds, has ash blond hair and green eyes. She was graduated from Scott High school in Toledo in 1942, and recently has been studying and making her home with Mrs. Helen Pichurko Smith, former Toledoan, now assistant director of an advertising agency in New York City. Her brother, Jack Brayer, engineer in the U. S. Navy, also is stationed in New York at present.

Epworth Sifritt Class Members Have Dinner

A dinner was held by the Sifritt Sunday school class of Epworth Methodist church at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lester McMunn of 496 East Fairground street Tuesday evening. The dinner was given by the losing side in a recent membership contest. Approximately 60 attended.

It was reported that 30 new members had been received during the contest. The highest attendance during the period was 96 and 17 members held a perfect attendance record. Those holding the perfect record were each presented with a small gold cross. They were Mrs. Marie Campbell, Mrs. S. M. Ingmire, Mrs. Morris Kline, Mrs. Jessie Lindsey, Mrs. Elizabeth Moore, Mrs. C. C. Nash, Mrs. Roy Watson, Mrs. Roy Kauble, Mrs. J. C. Spreitler, Mrs. Ralph Hurst, Mrs. Elston Shelley, Miss Orpie Gurley, Mrs. Kenneth Stewart, Mrs. Hazel Sanders, Mrs. W. W. Doughty, Miss Mary Worley and Fred Cornett.

Five dollars was donated to the religious education fund for the public schools. A program included the following numbers: group singing, accompanied by Mrs. Eva Dobson, accordionist; devotions by Mrs. Margaret Huffman, several numbers by the Nazarene quartet composed of Howard Orr, Dr. W. L. Johnson, Clifford Richards and George Jenkins; a solo by Howard Orr, accordion solos by Mrs. Dobson and a closing prayer by Mrs. Kline.

Mrs. Schiller, captain of the losing side, and Mrs. Spreitler headed the committee in charge of the dinner. Mrs. Kauble was the captain of the winning team.

"I Am Germany"

IT IS surprising at first thought that Hitler's regime is ordering total mobilization of Germany at this late date, but second thought urges that this is not total mobilization but total revolt.

National Socialism in Germany began as a counter-revolution. It sought to destroy all elements which opposed its policies. The one element it could not destroy—did not dare to destroy because it was too powerful—was the officer caste of the German army. With that element, Hitler made a working agreement, with the ultimate intention of destroying dissident elements piecemeal, as witness the long record of officer illnesses, dismissals and curious accidents—even assassination, in some cases. But the officer caste was not liquidated. It continued to function as the trustee of Prussian militarism.

In the current crisis, its trusteeship called for an attempt to over-ride Hitler's military leadership. National Socialism, at the same time, called for extermination of this last lingering source of effectual opposition to total domination by the party. Whether the attempt on Hitler's life was the excuse, or the reason, it produced the climax of total revolt against the last remaining challenge to the substitution of Hitler's judgment for the judgment of all other Germans.

This is the climax of the National Socialist revolt—the ultimate expression of the totalitarian principle. Hitler has demanded and apparently has power to dictate the terms of German destiny. His stooges now have control of everything. Butcher Himmler is commander-in-chief of the home army. Hermann the Fat is charged with defense of the reich. Goebbels will tell the lies. Hitler himself will design the strategy. This is the triumph of the one-party monstrosity that has been allowed to feed and grow strong on the people's unguarded freedom.

Full Speed Ahead

PUBLICIZED preparations for a western front offensive uncoiling from the Normandy invasion area have come to a climax in the beginning of large-scale action to break out of the beachhead into France proper and roll back German defenses. This may not be the big push. Certainly it is not the beginning of the end for Germany in western Europe. But it is a beginning of the beginning of the end. If the Allies in the west can go on to build up momentum comparable to that of Russia in its terrific offensive of the last month, Germany's army will be held helpless in a closing pincers of greater strength than anything its own strategists ever dreamed of.

As the master plan goes into effect in Europe, and as its proportions become plainer to all of us here at home, there is certain to be a new upward surge of civilian determination. The order now is full speed ahead—for everybody. Extra effort on the fighting fronts matched by extra effort at home can bring the turning point this year, perhaps within a few months. Our government will miss a great opportunity if it does not place the climactic effort of the European war in the same light for civilians as it presumably has been placed for the fighting men—the great chance to get it over with in 1944.

First Come, First Served

WHILE one Polish political organization gnashes its teeth in London, another organization in Poland is beginning to take credit for administering the areas from which Germans have retreated before the Russian army.

Since government becomes government only in practice, never in theory, the government in operation automatically takes precedence over the government in theory in remote London. Russia, by virtue of doing the fighting in Poland, while Great Britain is fighting only in behalf of Poland, is the more potent political sponsor. The fact that Britain was willing to fight in behalf of Poland at a time when Russian troops were invading Polish territory as part of an arrangement with the Germans whom they now are driving out of the same territory cannot be fitted into the present realities. Russia needed a Polish government, so it caused one to be organized. The realities, as usual, have been honored.

They are eased only in the particular that the Russian-sponsored government—the Polish Committee of National Liberation—offers a liberal, equitable prospectus. Obviously, the organization, being sponsored by Russia, will be friendly to Russia. But just as obviously, as long as Russia and Poland are to have a common border, Russia will insist on a friendly Poland as one of the rights of the victory it is winning. The situation already has generated enough heat to kindle another war in the brittle tinder of Polish hates, fears and jealousies, but the chief circumstance of the moment is that as between rival contenders for the right to administer a government of Poland, the organization sponsored by Russia got into operation first.

So They Say—

We seek the closest strategic and material union between Britain, Australia and America. No life can be lived anywhere in the Pacific ocean without friendship . . . between the three of us.—Sir Keith Murdock, Australian editor.

News Behind the News

Rebellion of Individual Business Man Against Washington Taxmaking Seen.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, July 27—Behind the scenes fireworks are going on over the Twin Cities plan of the national business revolt against Washington taxmaking.

[illegible] tax plan is a ... [illegible] ... the most important ... of government. The ... [illegible] ... experts" to ... [illegible] ... pay. The ... [illegible] ... old ... [illegible] ... plan of payment due, and to substitute payment by that amount.

As a result more people are angry about taxes in this country than anything else, including Mr. Roosevelt himself.

The way taxes are made encourages this popular sense of injustice. They evolve from plans presented to congress by labor (Congress of Industrial Organization, American Federation of Labor) on the one hand and the United States Chamber of Commerce and National Association of Manufacturers on the other, from which lobbies generally looked dead, mainly and naturally for political effect.

The makes for groove thinking. Our groove we are in, for instance, is the labor notion that the corporation is a cursed octopus, against which it must provide economic antagonism.

Labor therefore always advocates higher and higher taxes on corporations, a course which now, after years of success, has brought the corporation profits to a point where there is a question of whether the capitalistic system can survive in post war.

AFL Pamphlet

AFL came out with a pamphlet last week trying to show corporation profits had increased more than individual income from the war, and the only way they could do it was by presenting the corporation profits before taxes—yet taxes are the biggest factor against profits.

But above all, union labor gets all its income from corporation profits, and therefore you would think its wisest course would be against high taxes so the corporations would have more left for wages.

The Chamber of Commerce and NAM have similar grooves on their side, at a time when new ideas and straight impartial thinking based on common justice, is necessary if the country is to be saved.

Well, at any rate, these business men at luncheon one day compared notes and found their congressmen had written them the usual form letters asking if they had any tax suggestions for post-war. They usually get their tax thoughts from the C of C or NAM, but this time they decided they would try to make a real contribution of their own.

The [illegible] cost was about $8,-[illegible] may have doubled since ... for hiring some experts and ... out the 20,000 pro-... those experts prepared. Most of the workers, however, were loaned without cost by the ... organizations involved.

Some New Ideas

The brochures had some new ... not stereotyped to ... formulae. In fact, basically the Twin Cities plan is to reduce taxes on incomes but keep them at 40 per cent on corporations (eliminating only the war excess profits tax.)

It would cut individual rates about 16 per cent on an average, and still more aid individuals by allowing a 40 per cent exemption on dividends received.

The last is a novel, but just idea, because the corporation already has paid 40 per cent in taxes on income which belongs to the taxpayer. The present system is double taxation on the same dollar.

Some foolish notions about a sales tax are also dispelled, as it is evident the rich man, buying more would pay more tax than the poor man, and furthermore we have a sales tax of terrific proportions on the poor man now (cigarets and whisky, to mention two items.)

Details and figures of the report may rouse controversy (whether $120,000,000,000 of national post-war income will be enough, whether the post-war budget will not be more than $18,000,000,000 and therefore require more taxes), but at least the controversy will be on new lines and not in the grooves it has occupied for this entire generation.

Ruml Suggestion

Indeed Beardsley Ruml, the tax thinker outside of Washington who thought up the notion of making tax payments current, a plan which congress and the treasury were literally forced to take against their skilled wills, has advanced another more startling suggestions that corporation taxes be reduced to five per cent, while individual rates be increased.

That idea is poltically impossible, if not financially dangerous, but at least it contributes a new understanding of the abused position of the corporation.

You have read here before, and it has now become increasingly evident that if tax justice is to be found, it will have to be found outside of Washington and our deep-furrowed grooves.

CHRISTOPHER LaFARGE

MOST of the sketches in Christopher La Farge's "East by Southwest" appeared first in Harper's magazine, whose circulation is select but small. Therefore they are new to a large share of the public, which will do itself a great favor if it will read them at once. Mr. La Farge proves many things with his stories.

He speaks of them as reporting a section of the war in fiction. This is another way of saying that everything in the book is true, but not necessarily true of the place and time and people described. Perhaps it is straining a point to call this sort of thing "reporting" which is a word with a definite meaning these days.

But still, stories that make the reader see places and events as they are do constitute reporting of a sort.

Probably it is more important that Mr. La Farge's stories reproduce moods to a fabulous extent. He has one sketch of a civilian government representative who chiseled his way through the South Pacific area which not only reproduces the too-tolerant contempt felt for him by the military, but also the man's own little nubbin of a soul. His "All the Comforts of Home" is about a French admiral who is getting one of the de Gaulle islands ready for the Americans, and misunderstands the meaning of recreation facilities.

For my money, the last story in the book, called "By Word of Mouth," is next door to a masterpiece. It is very simple in outline and very subtle in result. It tells what happens when a very lonely French girl meets an American Don Juan at a dance. The American boy is quite sincerely attracted; he is determined to have the girl for himself alone, and he thinks up a novel way to make sure that nobody else goes near—he says she has leprosy, but that he is so infatuated he does not care. What happens to the girl after he leaves, and what she eventually does about it, is the meat of a first grade story.

SANTA FE, N. M. — First-time traffic offenders are in for a surprise when they enter City Magistrate Joe A. Berardinelli's courtroom.

Instead of the usual fine, accompanied by a group reprimand, they get a friendly explanation of Santa Fe's driving regulations and what amounts to almost an apology for any inconvenience. "It's just good business," Judge Berardinelli explains.

Argentine Dictatorship Poses Threat of War; Plans Reach Beyond Current Conflict's End.

By WALTER LIPPMANN

IT WOULD not be useful to speculate on just when and how there will be a settlement of the accounts with the present Argentine dictatorship. But we may be certain that a settlement will be a necessary part of the pacification that follows the war. For the avowed intentions of this dictatorship, which all its actions verify, look beyond the war.

This is the crucial point, which must be understood in interpreting the position taken by Secretary Hull and his Latin-American colleagues. As regards the war itself, the Argentine government has already done more injury to our cause and has given more aid and comfort to our enemies than it ever again will be able to do. The Allied defeat of the German submarines, the victories in North Africa, and the invasion of Europe have isolated Argentina from the Axis, and while the espionage and propaganda which she countenances still have a considerable nuisance value, they are no longer the threat they would have been if Hitler were advancing instead of retreating.

Postwar Problems

If, therefore, Argentina were simply another unfriendly neutral, another political partner of our enemies, we could assume that the Argentine problem would resolve itself when Germany falls. But this is precisely what we cannot assume. For this dictatorship is following a policy which is based on plans which cannot take effect until long after the end of the war. It is a policy which would certainly disturb the peace of this hemisphere, and there is little doubt that it is designed to disrupt the settlement with Germany and her Fascist satellites.

Argentina, under the iron hand of the dictatorship, is being transformed into an aggressive Fascist state just as the European Fascist states are being defeated and destroyed.

The fact that these Argentine colonels are not themselves men of world stature must not cause us to think that they cannot be the instruments of such a great plan. They have taken their ideology, their methods, their orders from the Nazis; there is no reason to doubt and every reason to believe that they are acting, perhaps unwittingly, according to plans worked out by the Nazis for the postwar period.

The evidence goes much deeper than their conduct during the war. It is true that they were pledged to cooperate with the American republics in the defence of the hemisphere, and that they have broken this pledge and have deserted their neighbors.

It is true that, pretending to break relations with the Axis, they allowed Axis diplomats and agents plenty of time and freedom, before they were repatriated, to reorganize their espionage; that they have suppressed freedom of the press for the newspapers friendly to our cause and have not only permitted the Axis newspapers to conduct an obscene campaign against us, but have supplied them with newsprint and financial assistance in the form of government advertising; that they have given large government contracts to Nazi firms, and have compelled firms that are friendly to the United Nations to receive bids for subcontracts from these Axis firms; that in true Nazi style they have suspended civil liberties, abolished political parties, taken control of the labor unions and have placed the whole educational system under well-known Fascists and enemies of democracy.

Yet all this would conceivably be tolerance or a purely Argentine affair, if it were not that this Fascist program at home is the foundation in Argentina, as it was in Italy and in Germany, for preparing and planning external aggression.

Preparing for War

On June 10 Col. Peron, Argentina's would-be Hitler, delivered a speech on national defense at the University of La Plata. Like his prototype, Hitler, he announced in advance the aggression which he contemplates.

Col. Peron told Argentina that peace is utopian and that they must prepare for total war against the days when "the clarion call of war must resound on the banks of the River Plata." Now Argentina did not prepare for total war against the totalitarian states; on the contrary she befriended them. But Argentina, under Col. Peron, is to prepare for total war in a world in which the democratic states have survived and won. Against whom, then, is Argentina preparing for total war? Against the Soviet Union? It is absurd. They are preparing for total war within the Atlantic community, and specifically against their weaker neighbors in South America.

Let anyone who doubts this explain, if he can, why Argentina has suppressed freedom, established a Fascist dictatorship, and is preparing for total war.

BAN DEWEY'S PICTURE IN SERVICE CENTER

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, July 27—A 6-by-8 foot photograph of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, presented to the Chicago Service Men's Center to be placed alongside a large portrait of President Roosevelt, will not adorn the walls of the center during the presidential campaign, Mayor Edward J. Kelly and center officials have decided.

"We appreciate the gift," said the center's director, Daniel L. Flaherty, who said the photograph of the Republican presidential nominee was given the center by George W. Fisher, Republican chairman of Cook county. "If Dewey becomes president, we will hang it. We have it in a safe place in the building."

Mayor Kelly, sponsor of the city's centers, said:

"We have never allowed any politics in the centers and we are not going to permit the hanging of any candidates' picture now."

Kelley said President Roosevelt's picture, measuring 56 square feet, has been hanging in the center since it opened "because he is the country's commander-in-chief. If we had a Republican president, his (the Republican's) picture would be up there just the same."

Rome Storage Firm Gives Aid to Friends

By The Associated Press

ROME—The ability of Arthur Bolliger and his sons Rudy and Arthur Jr., to avoid Gestapo traps and do favors for their American and British friends was one of the diverting aspects of Roman life under the Nazis.

They caught some of the German agents in misdeeds that insured their silence, aided the Jews and saved enormous property for hundreds of clients who represented countries at war with the Axis.

The Bolligers operate a string of warehouses. One of the favorite Nazi charges was that they operated secret warehouses. The warehouses weren't secret but they were well placed. When Allied bombs began to fall on the outlying districts, the Bolligers moved their priceless treasures to two special warehouses—one practically adjoined Vatican ,the other—in a monastery.

Correspondents in Rome had to leave huriedly when Il Duce went to war and many left their belongings at Bolligers. During the earlier days of the war in Egypt AP Correspondent Edward Kennedy often said his possessions in Rome were hidden where the Nazis would never find them. When Bolliger greeted Kennedy in the Piazza di Spigna on the day Rome fell, he cried: "everything is safe but you had a close call. The warehouse was bombed."

Firemen Still Busy, But Fire Loss Slight

Two repeat calls were made by firemen yesterday, one to the Setter Saw Mill, at the rear of 808 Cheney avenue, and the other to Universal Cooler Corporation, in addition to answering two other alarms.

No. 1 engine and quad truck from Central station responded to the saw mill call at 5:18 p. m. yesterday to extinguish a fire in a sawdust pile that was still smouldering. No loss was reported. At 7:01 firemen from the Fast Mark Street station and Squad truck from Central station went to Universal Cooler Corp. where dust in a ventilator fan ignited paint in a ventilator fan ignited again. They had answered a similar call there Tuesday afternoon.

Neighbors became alarmed and called firemen at 6 p. m. when they noticed smoke coming from Beasley's Meat Shop at 298 Pearl street. Engine No. 1 and quad responded to find the smoke died yesterday.

Sparks from the Marion Steam Shovel Co. foundry ignited the roof of the building at 7:25 p. m. yesterday causing an alarm to which Engine No. 1 from Central and firemen from the West Center street station responded.

Cold Meats for Warm Days

By BETSY NEWMANN

That cold meat plate to serve on warm summer days, especially on Monday, after Sunday's roast may be varied by adding some ready-cooked meats from the butcher's—sausage meats, baked ham, etc. A cold meat plate is attractive with lettuce or parsley, radish, green onions, carrot sticks, celery, etc., garnish. French fried potatoes, a green cooked vegetable, a salad and a dessert, and you have a delightful meal.

Today's Menu

Cold Meat Plate, Creamed or French Fried Potatoes, Corn on the Cob, Garden Salad, Devil's Food Cake, Iced Tea.

Fried Potatoes Burgoyne

Wash, pare and cut potatoes in ¼-inch slices, then slice in strips; there should be 3 cups. Parboil 1 minute in boiling, salted water, drain, dry on towel, fry in deep fat and drain on brown paper. Melt ¾ teaspoon butter in hot frying pan, add ¾ teaspoon finely cut chives; add potatoes and stir until potatoes have absorbed fat.

Fried Potato Curls

Wash and pare potatoes and cut in ⅛-inch slices. Cut round and round so as to make curls. Put in cold water and let stand 30 minutes. Drain, dry on a towel, and fry in deep fat. Drain on brown paper and sprinkle with salt.

Fried Potato Dots

Wash and pare large potatoes and shape with an apple corer, then cut pieces thus formed in ¼-inch slices, crosswise. Soak in cold water 8 minutes, drain, cook in salted boiling water 2 minutes; again drain, put in ice water and let stand 10 minutes. Drain, dry between towels, then fry in deep fat, drain on brown paper and sprinkle with salt.

Devil's Food Cake

½ cup shortening, 1½ cup sugar, 2 egg yolks, ½ cup cocoa, hot water, 2 cups sifted cake flour, 1½ tsp. baking soda, ¼ tsp. salt, 1 cup sour milk or buttermilk, 2 egg whites, 1 tsp. vanilla.

Cream shortening thoroughly, add sugar gradually, creaming after each addition until mixture is light and fluffy. Add well beaten egg yolks and blend. Add enough water to cocoa to make smooth paste, then add more water to make 1 cup cocoa mixture; beat into creamed mixture. Sift together flour, soda and salt and add alternately with sour milk to which vanilla has been added.

Garden Tips

Feed Your Garden

Associated Press Features

With the government warning Americans, "don't waste food," victory gardeners should amplify that admonition to, "don't waste food for people or for garden crops."

Save every bit of organic matter from the garden. It can be treated to provide an excellent mulch or fertilizer for the fall or for next spring.

A compost heap — or pile of plant refuse—is a handy aid to victory gardening. Save beet tops, carrot greens, grass clippings, bean and pea vines, weeds, cornstalks, fallen leaves, twigs and vegetable waste.

Pile the material in an out-of-the-way corner of the back yard using a space about four feet square. Dig a pit about a foot deep. Pile the material down in flat layers, and keep the sides as straight as possible. Sprinkle lime thinly, and add some Victory garden fertilizer to speed decay. If it is available, a little garden soil may be sprinkled onto the layers to supply bacteria, and thus hasten decay.

The decaying matter may be used as a mulch for crops in excessively hot weather, and after it has become thoroughly rotten, it may be dug into the soil to enrich it. The compost material is as good a fertilizer as you can obtain. Occasionally, hose the pile.

It generally takes about two months for the vegetable matter to rot thoroughly in the summer.

FLAKORN CORN MUFFIN MIX

COLD or hot, corn muffins are delicious with summer's lighter meals, when made with Flakorn. Tender and crisp and always delicious because Flakorn's quality ingredients are precision-mixed.

FLAKO PIE CRUST Makes flaky pie crust for summer fruits. Keep some handy. Flako.

DOUBLE YOUR BOND BUYING

CRYSTAL Domino CANE SUGAR TABLETS have gone to War!

THEY'RE right in the fight . . . with the Army, the Navy, the Marines and with the soldiers of our fighting Allies. For sugar is "energy" food, a top-rank essential in service rations . . . a vital source of strength and stamina.

All of our Crystal Domino Tablets, Pressed Tablets, Domino Dots and other Domino piece sugars are going now to our fighting men and our fighting Allies. That's why these sugars are on "leave of absence" from your grocer's shelves, but they'll be back when Victory comes.

Meanwhile, there are other Domino sugars for every home need. . . . Granulated, Confectioners, Old Fashioned Brown, Superfine Powdered, and Yellow, in convenient household packages.

A Summer Dinner Menu

By BETSY NEWMAN.

A [illegible] a good main [illegible] dinner. You [illegible] vegetables [illegible] but [illegible] almost [illegible] not [illegible].

MENU.

Meat or Fish Salad, French [illegible], Corn on the Cob, [illegible] Tomatoes, Chocolate Pie, [illegible] Tea or Coffee

Shrimp Salad.

[illegible] small cans shrimp, two [illegible] sized tomatoes, one stalk [illegible], salad dressing, lettuce.

Remove shrimp from can, wash and let stand in ice water for a few minutes, then drain. Add other ingredients and mix with salad dressing. Serve on lettuce.

Chicken Salad.

One c. cubed cooked chicken, one c. celery or mixed vegetables you use for salads, leave it in usable pieces. Celery or other vegetables should not be cut fine, and never chopped. Toss ingredients lightly together, cover with French dressing, cover bowl and let stand a short time in the refrigerator. Remove, drain and pile on salad greens, plain lettuce or a combination of lettuce and watercress. Top with mayonnaise or cooked salad dressing. Serves four.

Tuna Fish and Pecan Salad.

One-half c. pecan meats, one tbsp. butter, one c. flaked tuna fish, one-half c. celery, two tbsp. green pepper, French dressing.

Put pecan meats in strainer and scald by pouring boiling water through them, drain well. Melt butter in skillet, put in pecans and put over a low heat, shaking pan gently to dry and toast them lightly. Remove from heat, spread out on unglazed paper, sprinkle with salt and let cool. Flake tuna fish, cut up celery and cut green pepper in thin, short strips; toss together with nut meats. Pour French dressing over all, cover and let stand in a cold place a few minutes or an hour; drain well. Arrange lettuce or watercress on salad plates. Fill center with salad mixture and top with mayonnaise or cooked salad dressing. Garnish top with rings of green pepper. Serves four.

Goldbrick Papas Form Society in New Guinea

By The Associated Press

U. S. FIFTH AIRFORCE HEADQUARTERS, NEW GUINEA, July 14 (Delayed)—The Society of Goldbrick Papas has been organized here at Brig. Gen. Warren R. Carter's troop carrier command. Its members are long-distance soldier-farmers who are trying to rear their children by V-mail.

Here are some of the bylaws.

Members must be overseas;

They must never have seen their progeny;

They must be authorities on diaper washing, treating measles, quieting midnight howls. (How otherwise is the little wife to realize fully the benefits of objective advice by V-Mail?)

The society's membership, now approaching 100 representing half the states, includes these from Ohio:

Sgt. Charles E. Wright (Mrs. Virginia E. Wright), Mansfield; daughter, Roberta Jean, born Nov. 28, 1943.

Staff Sgt. John Morley (Mrs. Cleda Morley), East Springfield; son, Robert, born Oct. 15, 1943.

Pvt. Charles Milton Owens (Mrs. Mary Alice Owens), Ray; daughter, Beverly Jean, born Oct. 11, 1943.

Pfc. Donald P. Kelley (Mrs. Lois Kelley), Warren; son, Gene Ray, born April 2, 1944.

Former Star Sports Editor Covers Pacific War News

Sgt. Robert H. Kirkpatrick, a Marine Corps combat correspondent in the Pacific and former member of the editorial staff of The Star, contributed an item in a recent news release from the Marine Corps.

His story told about a lieutenant commenting on what to him was an important event, said, "Do you know, I had a fresh egg for breakfast this morning."

Sgt. Kirkpatrick's story added the egg had been the first one the lieutenant had eaten during 26 months in the Pacific "that didn't been powdered and laid by a can that never cackled."

Sgt. Kirkpatrick is a former Star sports editor.

JACK LING, INJURED IN WAR, IS VISITOR HERE

Given Medical Discharge From Army; Condition Improving

Mrs. Edna Ling and son, Jack Ling of Cuyahoga Falls, former residents of Marion, are visiting friends here. The latter recently received his medical discharge from the Army after more than two years service in the armed forces. Injured in an accident while serving as a sergeant with a railroad battalion on the battle front in Africa, he returned to the states in November last year and was hospitalized at Fletcher hospital, Cambridge, and Percy Jones hospital at Battle Creek, Mich., for spinal and a knee injury. He received his medical discharge about six weeks ago, and is improving.

When attending Harding High school he won recognition as an outstanding athlete, playing both football and basketball.

Mrs. Ling and her son are stopping at Hotel Harding.

In sea battles, it used to be the custom to treat men with minor wounds before those seriously hurt so they could return quickly to their posts.

MRS. FISSELL DIES AT OLNEY AVE. HOME

Funeral To Be Saturday; Burial at Mt. Gilead.

Mrs. Martha Ann Fissell, 72, died in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Leo White of 356 Olney avenue, this morning at 7:20. She had been in failing health for several years.

She was born March 22, 1872, in Belfast, Ireland, to Arthur and Martha Scott. She married Charles W. Fissell in Edison, O., Jan. 28, 1890. Mr. Fissell died about five years ago.

Mrs. Fissell was a member of Wesley Methodist church.

Surviving with Mrs. White, with whom she made her home, are three sisters, Mrs. Minnie Askew of Windsor street, Mrs. Tillie Brocklesby of Edison, Mrs. Margaret Smiley of Columbus, three brothers, Walter, Frank and Arthur of Edison, one grandchild and one great-grandchild.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2:30 p. m. in the chapel of the Edwin K. Smith home for funerals with burial in Riverciff cemetery at Mt. Gilead. Friends may call at the home after 7 tonight until 11 a. m. Saturday and at the funeral home from 11 until time of the services.

TRUCK KILLS TWO

By The Associated Press

SPRINGFIELD, O., July 27—A traffic accident claimed the lives of two men here yesterday. An automobile driven by Frank Leonard Steinmetz, 53, collided with a government truck, killing Steinmetz. The truck careened across the street, struck Fred Edward Fischer, 51, a pedestrian, and crushed him to death under the wheels.

PARK OWNER KILLED

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, July 27—William J. Kirchman, 60, owner of Geauga Lake park, was killed last night in an automobile collision in suburban Maple Heights.

At another time during the voting by states, another man was heard to say, "Maryland, Maryland, did I miss Maryland? You must not have called it."

Gardening Hazard

During a recent gardening venture carried on by a group of Marion attorneys, a very persistent bumblebee made his presence felt to several of the workers. As one member of the group so aptly put it, "He was stung in the north part of the garden and on the south part of him."

The one and only Republican in the group offered to go home in order that the others might hold the Democratic convention in the garden. His offer was declined, however, since the President had already been nominated. The size and quantity of the weeds to be pulled might have had something to do with their declining his offer, too.

Uninvited Guests

Francis Huber is thinking of starting a game refuge in his own home. According to reports he has a good start already. One evening recently, upon hearing a noise in the living room, Mr. Huber went in to investigate and found a large owl sitting on the back of a living room chair. This would be rather an unusual experience to most people but to Mr. Huber it was just another feathered creature deciding he liked the inside of the house better than the outside. To date the Hubers have been hosts to several sparrows, a woodpecker, and the owl, to say nothing of a squirrel and two chipmunks. They are unable to learn how the creatures get into the house.

Lunch-Hour Scenes

Out to lunch recently we noticed: at least two customers in a downtown lunch counter got their bowl of soup for ten cents before the manager found there had been an error in the printed menu and the price was hastily changed to the correct amount; while redecorating a display window, the worker took time out now and then to sip a chocolate milkshake; one of the regular mail carriers was back on duty after being absent on an extended vacation and was picking up the life-threads of his "customers;" you can almost tell the exact time of day by looking at the regulars at a restaurant or lunch counter.

Still Knows How

There is theory that once you learn how to swim, skate or ride a bike, you never forget how. One Marion man has learned that the theory holds true with regard to stilt walking. He was going mighty well at it, too. He'll have to buy a pair so he can go walking with those two granddaughters.

Art Note

An acute shortage of labor was accented on a post card sent by a Marionite spending time on the east coast. The card pictured a lighthouse standing above the ocean with the note, "I wish you could come here to paint these lighthouses." Of course the recipient of the card was an artist, which changed things.

Reminder

The gasoline shortage creates some peculiar problems such as this one. The other day a thoughtful wife called her husband's place of business to remind him that he had driven the car to work that day.

Going Too Far

We heard a story of one little tot's hospitality when a small friend was visiting the home that bears repeating. Unwatched by the mothers, the two started to play together. All went well until there was too much quiet and the solicitous mothers investigated to find the "hostess" while playing house had stripped her "guest," washed all her clothes and already had them drying on the line.

NAZI PAPER BELIES GOEBBELS' OPTIMISM

By The Associated Press

LONDON, July 27—Comment on Paul Joseph Goebbels' assertion that total mobilization would relieve the pressing German front, Hitler's own newspaper said today "we openly declare that never since the beginning of the war have our nerves and strength been exposed to heavier tests."

The comment in the Volkischer Beobachter, Berlin organ of the Nazi party, appeared beside a report of the speech of the newly appointed "reich plenipotentiary for total mobilization."

The propaganda minister, also gauleiter of Berlin, asserted that German reserves would be moved to the fighting fronts from the home army, now commanded by the Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler and that results would begin to show "next month."

"The situation, especially in the east, will soon change in favor of Germany," he said as the Russians charged to within 140 miles of German Silesia and stood easy striking distance of east Prussia, where many of the Junkers generals have their great estates.

"Total war will make available to the fronts and to war production so much manpower that it will not be too difficult to master the difficulties of the war situation."

Hitler's mobilization decree placing Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering and Goebbels in charge ordered total mobilization not only of Germany, but of all occupied territories—France, western Poland, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Norway, the Baltic states, Belgium, Holland, Yugoslavia, Greece, Denmark, northern Italy, and Luxemburg. Whether the decree applies to Finland, Romania and Bulgaria has not been made clear.

Goebbels conjured up the old shibboleth of secret weapons again, asserting that for a minute his heart "stopped beating" when he saw the most modern German weapons. Robot bombs such as those hurled against London are "nothing but a mere preamble," he said.

Major U. S. Blow in Pacific May Be Possible Soon

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

We shouldn't let allied success in Europe make us overlook the fact that things also go well for us in the Pacific—so well indeed that we likely shall be able soon to launch major operations which will be calculated to win the war in the orient much sooner than originally expected.

We are closing in on Japan fast. This doesn't mean that we have an easy task before us. On the contrary it bids fair to be a nasty job.

Admiral King, commander of the U. S. fleet, declared a couple of days ago that the Japanese "will continue to wage war with all the power they possess." Admiral Halsey, commander of our Third Pacific fleet, adds the pungent remark that "the Japanese still are like rats and fight until they are exterminated."

However, our recent conquests in the Marianna islands, including the great naval and air base of Saipan, have put a new and rosy complexion on prospects. Uncle Sam's heavy bombers now are within reach of Japan and the Philippines—both only 1,500 miles away. Admiral King reminds us that our Navy now has bases to smash directly at Japan, the Philippines and China.

It's Plain To See

Well, that's hanging it on the line for the mikado and his little men to see. And the new Japanese cabinet ministers, who are shouldering the heavy troubles expremier Tojo packed up for them, read the signs and freely admit that things are serious for them.

They're particularly concerned about the Marianna theater, pointing out to the Japanese public that several powerful U. S. fleet task forces are prowling about in these waters which are vital to Nippon's security. They have a right to be worried, for we not only possess Saipan but are getting ahead well with our conquest of the important neighboring island- of Guam and Tinian.

Tokyo also has noted other hurricane warnings, reporting to the Japanese public that a U. S. task force has bombed Palau island and that a British force has strafed Sabang in the Dutch East Indies. Sabang has been bombed before, but an attack on Palau is a sensation.

Palau, and its 100 surrounding isles, is one of Japan's most important sea defenses. Moreover this group is a shield for the southern Philippines, being only 560 miles east of Mindanao.

Admit Lack of Air Power

With this tightening of the allied air and sea cordon about the enemy, a Japanese naval spokesman has made a disclosure of vast interest. He says the Japanese fleet won't come out to give battle until conditions seem favorable to Tokyo. He gives as one reason that his navy lacks the air power of the American fleet.

That may easily be the exact truth, even if it is an enemy handout. The whole world has been waiting to know whether the Nipponese would accept America's challenge to a naval showdown. The mikado's men are well aware that any sailor in the American fleet would give his right arm to get them into a major fight, and they aren't likely to risk a clash until the time seems right.

One would expect them to give battle sooner or later. Why should they hesitate to risk their fleet at the finish, when they know that if they lose the war their ships are to be taken away from them anyway?

General MacArthur has hinted that bombing of the Philippines from our new bases may begin soon. That's something to watch for, because when it starts in a big way it will mean he is about to make good his oath to reclaim these islands.

During World war I, 85 American ships were launched on a single day—July 4, 1917.

SAYS JOB ENDED. Col. Bradley Dewey has resigned his position as United States rubber director effective Sept. 1 and recommended to War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes that the office be abolished. The rubber director said 836,000 tons of rubber are being produced yearly in plants of the nation's synthetic rubber program, with only a lack of manpower as the chief problem now.

EAGLES ARRANGE DISTRICT PICNIC

Outing To Be Held Aug. 13 at Marion Fairgrounds.

Plans were completed for a district meeting and family picnic to be held Sunday, Aug. 13, at a meeting of Buckeye Aerie No. 337, F. O. Eagles Wednesday night. Approximately 100 candidates from aeries in the district will be initiated with the Tulin degree team conferring the degree work. The lodge meeting which will be held in the Eagles hall, is scheduled for 2 p. m. and the picnic at 4 p. m. at the county fairgrounds.

John A. Abel of Kansas City, Mo., chief auditor of the national organization, and lodge members from Kenton, Willard, Tiffin, Bucyrus, Carey and Upper Sandusky will be present. Present also will be M. L. Brown of Springfield, managing organizer, Elsie O'Brien, grand deputy auditor, Mayor Harry L. Dowler, who will deliver the welcome address, and other guests. All officers of the Fourteenth district will take part in the meeting.

Past worthy presidents and the president of the Ladies' auxiliary will serve on the welcome committee and music will be furnished by the Eagles quartet.

The fairgrounds will be open at 3 p. m. for the outing and free bus transportation will be furnished from the Eagles hall to the fairgrounds from 3 to 5 p. m. Plans are being made for entertaining 2,000 persons. Dinner will be served free from 5 to 7 p. m., children's activities are scheduled from 4 to 7 p. m., there will be a band concert from 8 to 9 p. m. and a floor show from 9 to 9:30 after which there will be round and square dancing. The Eagles' rube band will entertain throughout the afternoon and evening.

The following chairmen and committees are in charge of plans. Bert Gilmore, Gene Williams and Paul D. Reynolds, arrangements; J. Lewis, C. Pace, J. Lusch, A. G. Myers and P. Neidig, finance. Charles Way, transportation. Lee Collins, Howard Wharton and Walter Merrow, entertainment; E. Gorenflo, G. Bolinger, S. Hollenbach, Carl Drollinger and Fred Miller, grounds; Ross Jump, C. Watson, S. Lloyd, J. Smith, B. Grove, C. Curtis, William Boyd and Sam McKinzie, social; R. D. Rea and Paul Berringer, trucking; Carl Lehner and Thomas Chapman, children's activities. There will be a loudspeaker installed to inform the members and guests of the various activities. Members of the Ladies' auxiliary will assist as a social committee.

ARGENTINA DEFIES CRITICISM BY U. S.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 27—A defiant Argentina stood virtually quarantined from its western hemisphere neighbors today, unmoved publicly by a blunt United States declaration that its government will not be recognized until it plainly abandons a "pro-axis" policy for a pro-allied one.

A high state department official said the sweeping U. S. denunciation charging Argentina with open aid to the axis had received virtually unanimous approval of all the other American nations.

The state department document, which pulled no punches in this government's statement of its firm stand against the regime of President Edelmiro Farrell, detailed charges of Argentina's failure to join in hemispheric defense during the past two and a half years and specified pro-Nazi actions of Farrell's government.

Since the inter-American conference convened shortly after Pearl Harbor, Argentina "has persisted in an open, notorious and contrary course of action which has given constant aid and comfort to the enemies" of the other American republics, it declared.

Buenos Aires, July 27—An assertion by Argentine Foreign Minister Gen. Orlando Peluffo that his country is resolved to continue her present course of conduct, which the United States has criticized officially as "pro-axis," dimmed hopes today of an immediate solution of the Argentine diplomatic crisis.

DEFEATS WOMAN SENATOR. Rep. J. W. Fulbright, freshman representative from Arkansas, has defeated the veteran woman senator, Hattie W. Caraway, in the Arkansas senatorial primary. Fulbright, author of the noted "Lasting Peace" resolution, defeated a field of five candidates, including Mrs. Caraway, who was appointed to the United States senate in 1931. Fulbright faces the runner-up in a run-off election Aug. 9.

warships, planes and artillery helped the Yanks in their drive out on Orote peninsula.

Supporting these invasions, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today that his southwest Pacific bombers smashed the enemy's Woleai island airdrome in the western Carolines Tuesday with 27 tons of bombs.

On British New Guinea, American lines held firm against Jap attempts to break out a Wewak trap in the vicinity of the Brinjumor river. Further west in the Dutch New Guinea sector, Japs were caught attempting to flee from the invaded Schouten islands to Manokwari and a barge loaded with 50 soldiers was sunk by PT boats and bombers.

Sabang Hit Again

Allied warships and planes, suddenly reappearing in the Indian ocean, have demolished the harbor works at Sabang, key Japanese fortress guarding the rich stolen islands of the Dutch East Indies and Singapore, southeast Asia headquarters disclosed today.

Adm. Lord Louis Mountbatten, confirming yesterday's Tokyo broadcast, said a 35-minute attack Tuesday by battleships, cruisers, destroyers and carrier aircraft silenced shore batteries, sunk a freighter, wrecked two jetties, wrecked workshops and whatves and left the target area aflame. The Japanese had claimed little damage.

In China the U. S. 14th air force stung the Japanese trying to take Hengyang, downing or damaging 14 planes in a battle over Yochow. A hope began to glimmer in Chungking stories that the enemy might be forced to abandon his offensive to seize all the Hankow-Canton railway. Hengyang teetered on the verge of capture, but its doughty defenders and General Chennault's fliers were making the price high. In the Yochow battle no Americans were lost.

The British inflicted more losses on the Japanese fleeing India and Chinese-American troops inched deeper into Myitkyina.

Frontal Assault Likely

If the Germans shift south of Warsaw in an attempt to hold back the Red army from crossing the Vistula, Stalin may hurl a frontal assault from the east.

Gen. Ivan Bagramian's quick followup of his latest breakthrough in the central Baltic Soviet republics has separated German forces in Estonia and Latvia from those in Lithuania.

Thus it appeared that Hitler has lost the Baltics, and his immediate problem is how to evacuate his troops left defending Baltic cities they still hold. Railway communication to East Prussia or to Memel appears out of the question. Troops in Estonia and Latvia probably will seek to leave by sea, while large forces remaining in Lithuania must pour back into East Prussia.

Any large concentration in East Prussia, however, poses another problem for the Nazis. The Russians have strong forces south of the border of the Suwalki triangle. If they should succeed in reaching Insterburg, about 50 miles east of Konigsberg, thousands of Germans would be cut off.

English Kids Back from U. S. Have Lost Their Shyness

By The Associated Press

LONDON—It's a wise father who knows his own child—particularly if the father's English and his child has just returned from four years in the United States, says the London Mail.

Hundreds of English children between seven and 17 who met their fathers again for the first time in years greeted them with "hi, ya, pop," and stuck chewing-gum kisses—after someone pointed out who Dad was. They were shy when they left England in 1940, but now they treat anybody as a buddy, and almost always find something to say for themselves.

The more than 2,000 expatriate children and mothers immediately began to learn some of the difficulties of wartime England: they couldn't find a taxi, arrange a comfortable train journey home or get American table delicacies on the 5s. ($1) dinner. They saw utility clothing, contrasting with their own brightly colored smart apparel.

"It will take the youngsters a year to readjust themselves," one of the mothers said. "They will have to learn that life will be a bit harder, a little slower. And they'll have to reshuffle their ideas on lots of things."

Mediterranean Forces Strike Heavy Blow

ROME, July 27—The Mediterranean allies air force gave the German air force one of its hardest jolts yesterday, knocking 78 enemy planes out of the air over southern Europe and boosting the total score in the past three days to 193, a new Mediterarranean record.

Simultaneously, it was announced, Lightning and Mustang fighters of the 15th U. S. air force have returned to their Italian bases after a shuttle operation to Russia in which they shot down 64 enemy planes over Romania and Poland and destroyed many more on the ground.

Twenty of yesterday's victims were claimed by these Lightning and Mustang formations returning from the three-day shuttle.

Most of the other victories yesterday came in air battles when Fortresses and Liberators bombed the Wiener Neudorf aircraft engine factory; the Markersdorf airfield and the Zwolfaxing airfield, all within 35 miles of Vienna, the Szombathely airfield in Hungary and the bereat Kucove oil refinery in Albania.

of Periers, and lashed out near Caumont, 13 miles east of St. Lo, capturing Montrabot. In all, at least 15 villages and towns have been taken in 48 hours.

Front dispatches said tanks bearing sharpshooting infantrymen—snipers who cut down German rocket gunners—had advanced beyond Canisy, four miles southwest of St. Lo.

The other U. S. tank spearhead at Marigny was battling only eight miles from the Germans' supply road running north from Coutances to the battle front at Periers.

These armored fists had scored the deepest inland penetration of the invasion—about 30 miles from the coast.

The allied spearhead which thrust into Canisy, two miles south of St. Gilles, threatened to cut off the Germans who have been holding out in the Vire river bend west of St. Lo since the Americans penetrated the city 10 days ago.

For miles on either side of the impressive St. Lo push the Americans also were on the move.

Two spearheads pressed in on Periers, 15 miles west of St. Lo. One, driving southwest down the road from Carentan, firmly regained the town of Raids which has changed hands repeatedly in the last fortnight.

Fight Off Four Attacks

The other, pushing a new bridgehead across the Sieves river, due north of Periers, repelled no less than four German counterattacks yesterday and last night. A previous bridgehead over the Seves was shoved back last week by the Nazis.

In their drive east of St. Lo American troops took the town of Montrabot, four miles northwest of Caumont, the approximate mid-point of the allies' 100-mile line in Normandy, and the allied communique said troops in this area had made a number of other unspecified advances.

At least 40,000 Germans, half of them elite armored troops, in a great concentration of one division to every two miles, were desperately blocking the British and Canadian drive toward Paris.

Continuing their support of the ground troops, allied aerial forces continued to batter German positions and tank and troop concentrations in the battle areas. Other warplanes shot up German transportation over a wide area from Doual to Vendome.

During all aerial operations 19 German planes were destroyed and 19 allied planes were reported missing.

NEW HOTEL SERVICE RULES ARE SET UP

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 27—The war manpower commission today ordered service cut to a minimum in hotels.

The WMC issued these rules, to be applied except in emergency cases:

1. The number of persons engaged in serving meals and beverages in rooms shall be reduced to approximately 50 per cent of the average number employed in such service in 1941 or any subsequent year selected by the local WMC area director;

2. Bed linen shall be changed no oftener than twice a week for guests other than those on a daily basis. 3 Maid service for any guest shall be limited to the maximum of once every 24 hours;

4. No more than two face towels and one bath towel shall be provided daily for any one guest;

5. Changes of washable shower curtains shall be restricted to one a week.

The WMC also directed that wherever possible, able-bodied male employes under 45 shall be replaced by women, elderly men or persons physically handicapped.

Cleveland War Plant Workers Still Striking

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, July 27 — Approximately 4,100 unionists continued their walkouts at two Cleveland war plants today, halting production of a vital part for engines in the B-29 Super Fortress and heavy castings for army trucks.

The walkout of 3,000 CIO United Automobile Workers at the Ohio Crankshaft Co. entered its fourth day as Lawrence Wilkey, president of the union local, reported the membership held a meeting last night and voted to continue the stoppage until two inspectors, discharged for insubordination, were rehired.

The 1,100 AFL United Automobile Workers who left their jobs at the National Malleable & Steel Casting Co. received an order from the national war labor board last night to resume production immediately. The WLB warned a continuation of the walkout "will only prejudice the interests" of the union members.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 3 p. m. at the Merle H. Hughes Mortuary with burial in Brush Ridge cemetery. Friends may call at the son's residence, 1004 North Main street until 11 a. m. Saturday, when the body will be taken to the funeral home.

Three Vacancies Filled in Crawford Co. Schools

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, July 27—Two rural teachers and a superintendent at Mt. Zion were employed by county school boards this week, leaving seven vacancies yet to be filled in the county teaching staff.

Charles J. Schwemley of New Washington was employed as superintendent at Mt. Zion, replacing Curtis Kuenzli who was given a leave of absence. Schwemley taught at New Washington last year. He has a master's degree from Ohio State university in school administration.

Others employed were Mrs. Josephine Myers, department teacher at Mt. Zion and Miss Belva Clary, primary teacher at Lykens. The resignation of Mrs. Fern Decker at Mt. Zion was accepted.

BUCYRUS, July 27—Bucyrus' first Wave, Jean Louise Whittaker, yeoman second class, is one of a dozen outstanding women reservists assigned to duty at the naval air primary training command headquarters at Glenview, Ill., who will be saluted by male co-workers on the WAVES' second anniversary Sunday.

U. S. CASUALTY TOTAL 311,000

63,000 Dead Included in Latest Count on Two Hemispheres.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 27—Fierce fighting in two hemispheres has pushed the battle casualties of the United States past the 311,000 mark, with more than 63,000 dead.

The cost in men in this war now far exceeds the 273,808 total for World war I.

The overall total is a compilation of official Army and Navy files, plus later figures which have been announced from the fighting in Normandy, Saipan and Guam and air forces losses.

Here is how the casualty lists now stand:

Army, reported through July 6, and covering casualties up to about three weeks earlier—207,288, of which 37,237 are killed, 89,849 wounded, 40,788 prisoners and 39,311 missing.

Navy, reported up to today and presumably including figures not much later than three weeks ago—50,496, of which 21,433 are killed, 14,938 wounded, 9,655 missing and 4,469 prisoners.

Figures from Normandy

American casualties in Normandy in the period June 6-20, inclusive—24,162, of which 3,082 are killed, 13,121 wounded and 7,959 missing.

(This, of course, does not include the recent heavy days of fighting in the St. Lo offensive.)

Saipan casualties, including both Navy and Army, total 15,053. Of these, Army infantry casualties totaled 3,498, of which 901 are killed, 2,485 wounded and 112 missing, leaving the heavy majority of the casualties among Marines, whose losses were not classified. (Two Marine and one Army divisions landed in the initial action at Saipan.)

Guam casualties to date total 3,018 for both services, with 443 killed. Casualty figures for the landing on another of the Marianas islands, Tinian, have not been reported so far.

Report from Italy

American ground force casualties in Italy from the landings last September to July 18 amount to 75,496, of which 13,362 are killed, 51,194 wounded nad 10,920 missing or prisoners. In addition, American air forces operating in and from that theater have lost 11,656, of which 1,383 are killed, 1,741 wounded and 8,541 missing or prisoners.

The overall total of casualties would thus come to 311,677.

Secretary of War Stimson, reporting Army casualties today, pointed out that the Japanese have been paying heavily in the war in the central and southwest Pacific. From Nov. 1, last year, to now 85,000 Japanese have been been killed in those areas alone, he said, adding that this figure does not include "the thousands who must have perished on sunken or damaged enemy warships and other vessels or from bombing and disease in the isolated areas where Japanese groups still are holding out."

Stimson's figures also did not include enemy losses in southeast Asia and China.

ground forces "our soldiers must have the fighting spirit."

"If you call that hating our enemies, then we must hate with every fiber of our being," he continued. "We must lust for battle; our object in life must be to kill; we must scheme and plan night and day to kill. There need be no pangs of conscience, for our enemies have lighted the way to faster, surer and crueler killing; they are past masters."

The general had a narrow escape himself in the spring of 1943 when a German shell exploded near the forward observation post where he stood on the Tunisian front watching the advance of American forces. Fragments of the shell ripped into his shoulder and struck his head. One of them pierced his helmet, but lacked sufficient force to reach the brain.

"Another quarter of an inch and the shell would have penetrated to the brain and he would have been a goner," said a colonel at the evacuation hospital where General McNair underwent an operation. The steel headgear was credited officially with saving his life.

General McNair was born in Verndale, Minn., May 25, 1883. He was graduated from the Military academy in 1904 and the next year married Miss Clare Huster. They had one son, Douglas Crevier.

He was with the Funston expedition in Vera Cruz in 1914 and with the Pershing punitive expedition into Mexico in 1916-17.

In June of 1917, a few weeks after the United States' entry into World war I, McNair sailed for France and served with the First division, American expeditionary forces, until August. Then he was at general headquarters at Paris and Chaumont until the end of the war. He went into Germany with the army of occupation.

The distinguished service medal was awarded him.

PLANES NOW FLY ESCORT FOR TANKS

By The Associated Press

A U. S. NINTH AIR FORCE ADVANCED HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, July 27—American fighter planes now fly escort for tanks as well as for bombers.

Maintaining constant low patrol over U. S. armored columns driving through German lines west of St. Lo, pilots claimed 20 Nazi tanks destroyed, 19 probably destroyed, and 50 damaged yesterday alone.

Through radio liaison between the planes and tanks, tank commanders assign the fighters to knock out anything they believe is obstructing their path.

For the pilots, flying at an average altitude of only 300 feet, it is something like riding herd over a cattle trail.

Capt. John Baer, Cottonwood, Idaho, a Thunderbolt pilot, said "if we can't spot a target right away, tank gunners lay a smoke marker down on it for identification."

Capt. Joe McLachlan, Detroit, Mich., whose flight claimed destruction of two Tiger tanks yesterday by strafing after light bombs had missed, said "they told us Tigers couldn't be destroyed by strafing, but both were left burning after we raked them."

Fred Stuckey Rites Tomorrow Afternoon

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, O., July 27—Funeral for Fred Stuckey, 64, whose death occurred Tuesday at Bucyrus City hospital, will be held Friday at 1:30 p. m. at the Bringman & Co. funeral home, with Rev. D. F. Brose, pastor of Trinity Evangelical church, officiating. Interment will be made in Greenlawn cemetery in Columbus.

Mr. Stuckey was a lifelong resident of Wyandot county. He was born in Eden township June 4, 1880, the son of the late Godfrey and Amelia (Reugsegger) Stuckey.

Mr. Stuckey was a member of the Upper Sandusky lodge of Elks, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion. He was a director of the Bucyrus Gun club and also a member of the Marion Gun club. He also belonged to the Okoboji Indian Gun club, an organization which meets annually at Cedar Point and is limited to one hundred members in the United States. He had taken part in the Grand American Handicap tournament which is held annually at Vandalia.

Friends may call at the home any time after Wednesday evening.

BATTLE IN ITALY HITS NEW FURY

Eighth Army Smashes Two German Counter-Attacks 6 Miles from City.

By The Associated Press

ROME, July 27 — The battle for Florence, the last big Italian city in German hands south of the Gothic line, flared to a new fury today with the Eighth army smashing fierce German counter-attacks eight miles from the heart of the historic town.

At the same time indications grew that the ancient city of Pisa would become a major battle ground. The Germans were observed erecting barricades in the main streets north of the Arno river and setting up machinegun posts. It was reported officially the enemy was using the famous leaning tower as well as church steeples for observation posts.

Long Battle Line

The roar of heavy artillery resounded along the Fifth army front on the lower Arno from San Romano to the sea. American long-range guns destroyed a big enemy railway cannon, several tanks and self-propelled guns and a number of enemy dumps during day-long shelling.

The Germans continued to fight bitterly in the horseshoe bend east of Pisa—their only stronghold on the south side of the Arno Fifth army front.

The last pockets of Nazi resistance along the railway embankment near San Romano was wiped out and the Americans also cleaned up a few groups of Germans who had been fighting from house to house in the same area.

8th Army Advances

Most impressive gains in the steel ring closing in on Florence were to the southwest of the city where Eighth army units surged forward as much as three miles in the area of Castelnovo and Vallechio.

These forces were more distant, however, than the New Zealanders battling the German fourth parachute division along highway No. 2 in the area of San Casciano, only eight miles from the goal.

In the upper Tiber valley the British crossed the Cortone river and engaged the enemy in the immediate area of Sansepolcro.

Activity in the Adriatic sector was limited to patrols.

Dorcas Society Meets at Church in Galion

GALION, July 27—Plans to serve a number of banquets this fall, including the one for the celebration of the seventy-fifth anniversary of the Frauen Missions Verein, were made when the Dorcas society met Wednesday afternoon at First Reformed church. Mrs. Otis Parks presided for business, and the devotional leader was Mrs. Harriet McCombs.

A report of the guild meeting held recently in Tiffin was given by Mrs. R. R. Elliker. The society also planned a rummage sale to begin August 15 at Gwinners' garage on South street.

For the program, two articles were read by Mrs. Charles Trachl. There were 39 members and guests present.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by Mrs. Chalmers Geiger, Mrs. Minnie Geiger, Mrs. C. C. Goldsmith, Edna Grubaugh, Mrs. Carl J. Gugler and Mrs. Glen Gwinner.

A door prize was awarded to Mrs. Arthur Stoner at the meeting of the Delaplane Star lodge Wednesday. The short business session was in charge of Mrs. Elizabeth Pensinger.

Both dinner and supper were served when a picnic was sponsored by the Sunday school of Trinity Lutheran church, Wednesday at Horse park. Games and contests in the afternoon were in charge of Miss Anna Fecht and Miss Hazel Young, teachers. There were around 60 present for the picnic.

RIDGEWAY OFFICER KILLED IN FRANCE

Special to The Star

KENTON, O., July 27—First Lieutenant Bruce I. Bell, 23-year-old son of Lieutenant Major and Mrs. Asa H. Bell of nearby Ridgeway, was killed in action June 23 while fighting the enemy in France, the war department notified his parents yesterday.

He was a member of a reconnaissance unit which landed behind German lines on June 6 and apparently he and his platoon were unable to hold out until American fighting forces broke through to their positions.

Lieut. Bell graduated from Ridgeway High school in 1939, left here with Kenton's Company E in October, 1940, for federal army service, transferred to Fort Benning, Ga., officer candidate school in early 1942 while Company E was at Indiantown Gap, Pa., was commissioned a second lieutenant in June, 1942, received the wings of a paratroop officer the following October and in April, 1943, was promoted to first lieutenant. He left for overseas service last March.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by a brother, Lieut. (j. g.) Robert L. Bell of the U. S. Merchant Marine, who is home on leave at the present time.

Marion Cubs Return Home To Win Zanesville Series Opener 9 to 8

Kuhlman Fans 14 and Gives Up Only Six Hits.

By BOB COCHERL

The Marion Cubs returned home last night to give the local fans an exhibition on how to play baseball by defeating the Zanesville Dodgers to the tune of 9 to 8 under the lights at Lincoln park amid scattered showers which delayed the game twice.

It was Bob Kuhlman starring for the locals as he fanned 14 batters while giving up but six hits. This was his first starting assignment, but from the way he looked last night it won't be his last. Bob, however, didn't confine his talents to the mound chores as he got two hits, including a double, out of four trips to the plate to drive in two runs and score twice himself. The last time he pitched was on July 20 when he came in to relieve Stan Ostrowski in a game with Lima. On this occasion he struck out seven batters in three and two-thirds innings.

The locals scored first with one run in the opening inning as John Smith singled, took second on Carlsen's ground-out and came home as Joe Bellamy singled to center field. They scored one more run in the fifth. With one out Joe Bellamy hit his second double, Granzig singled to left, Joe holding third to come home on Jeske's fielders choice.

Two More Runs

Marion scored two more in the sixth as with one out Kuhlman singled to left and scored as Smith clouted a triple to the left center field wall. Carlsen then scored Smith with a single to center.

The "lucky" seventh was the big Cub inning when they scored four runs to tie up the ball game. Art Andres singled to center, Swota walked, Vickery, batting for Sparger, was hit by the pitcher and took first to fill the bases. Then Bob Kuhlman rapped out his double to left field scoring Anders and Swota. Smith walked, Carlsen singled to center to score Vickery and Kuhlman to put the locals back in the ball game.

In the eighth Al Jeske led off with a single to left field, stole second and took third on a passed ball. Then as Clancy Condit pitched to Bailey, Jeske headed for home to score as "Red" sacrificed.

Zanesville scored three in the fourth on consecutive doubles by Bishop, Brown and Ozark, a sacrifice by Sloss and a single by Lembo.

They also seemed to like the seventh inning as they nicked Bob Kuhlman for five runs on two hits. Steve Lembo singled to right field, with one out, Fiest was safe on a fielders choice, Mikesell and Bauer drew passes with Fiest scoring as Bishop also drew a base on balls. Frank Brown, then stepped into a fast one to slap an inside the park home run to the right center field wall. This ended Zanesville's scoring.

Rain Interrupts Twice

The contest, interrupted twice by steady down pour of rain showed the local crowd one thing and that was who worked the hardest at the ball park. It was the scorekeeper's helper, who carried the Zanesville sign into the dugout from left field both times the game was halted only to get to lug it back again so as to complete the game.

Tonight "Red" Bailey will seek his eleventh win in 18 starts as he faces the Dodgers at 8 P. M. Zanesville's hurler for tonight has not been decided as yet.

Widdoes Takes Peek at Buck Prospects

By HAROLD HARRISON
Ohio AP Sports Editor.

COLUMBUS, O., July 27—Here's a tip straight from the feed-box on the prospects for Ohio State university's 1944 football team.

The Bucks have some weaknesses. They have some strength. They may win any number of games from one to nine. They may lost any number of games from one to nine. They may tie some games.

That startling information was the net result today of a pow-wow with Carroll Widdoes, acting head coach at State, four days after he watched the boys perform in a regulation game that wound up the six-week summer practice period.

The interview went something like this:

"Now that you've had some time to think it over, what does it look like for this fall?"

Widdoes—"Well, I don't know."

"How many games do you think you might win?"

"Well, I don't know."

"What weaknesses do you think were most apparent?"

"We are weak on going down under kick-offs and that's bad since the coaches have agreed this year not to kick out of bounds. We need a lot of work, too, on protecting our kickers."

"What about the strength?"

Reserves Better

"We won't be hurt as badly this year as last fall when we have to substitute for our first stringers."

"Are you in danger of losing any of the boys to the armed services before the season is over?"

"Our biggest worry is Tom Keane. (Brilliant freshman halfback from Bellaire). He'll be 18 in September. In addition, Dick Wanatke, halfback; Ray Di Pierro, guard; John Ehrsam, quarterback, and John Motejzik, end, will be 18 in August. Joe Mascio, halfback, and Carl Lemle, quarterback, already are 18."

"Well, Carroll, let's get right down to cases. How about those nine games next fall? Let's take them one by one and you tell us how you think you'll fare."

"We open with Missouri and I'd say we won't be any worse than Missouri. Iowa ought to be an even go. I read where they have an all-state fullback from Nebraska and a few players like that can make them plenty tough.

Remember Wisconsin

"Wisconsin? Well, we've got a road trip to make there and we're going to take our own water. (Two years ago the Bucks were made ill at Wisconsin by the water). Great Lakes? That remains to be seen. They'll outman us.

"Minnesota? They say their freshmen look more like the old time Minnesota teams than in several years. That ought to be enough. Indiana? You know what happened last year. (The Bucks lost that one on a last second touchdown pass).

"Pittsburgh? They've got a lot better stuff than last year and we'll probably have a great time with their T-formation. Illinois? They still have McGovern, Bray and Greenwood and that's a tough backfield.

"Michigan? They're not as deep as last year but they'll be plenty strong."

And with that the interviewer sadly packed up and moved along but not until he had been assured by the affable Mr. Widdoes that when the Bucks take the field next fall the team will consist of two ends, two tackles, two guards, a center, a quarterback, two halfbacks and a fullback.

MARSHALL, MAXIM BATTLE ON TONIGHT

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., July 27 — Heavyweight Joey Maxim and light heavyweight Lloyd Marshall clash in Cleveland's lakefront stadium tonight in the continuance of a scrap they started in a gym workout a year ago—but this time the spectators will have to pay to see it.

Both fighters have different versions of the result of that mixup and the promoters, with both eyes on the boxoffice receipts, are trying to make the most of it.

Maxim, now an air force military policeman at Malden Field, Mo., says one round in the gym convinced him he could handle the fast and clever Marshall.

Recalling that session, Maxim declares: "I'll never forget the one round I boxed with him. I cut his mouth with three straight lefts and he nailed me with a couple of left hooks. The crowd in the gym was howlin' for more, but some smart head stepped in to stop that crowd from gettin' a swell fight for free."

Marshall has a different story of that meeting: "I don't rightly recall how we happened to be in the ring together, but we were there and the first thing I knew, he'd snapped over three smart jabs on me. No blood showed at all, like he said it did, but there was just enough sting in those blows to make me get on my toes and wing him with a short left hook to the jaw.

"Then the round was stopped in a hurry—but by nobody from my side of the fence. I'd like to make that clear. It was some one from Maxim's corner that stepped in and yelled for a halt. And, as I remember, Maxim didn't object."

Maxim has an edge of eight years and 20 pounds in tonight's 10-rounder. However, he says he would rather box the big fellows. Maxim has been a consistent winner since joining the Army, notching nine straight victories.

Albany is believed to have been the second permanent settlement of the 13 colonies.

MILWAUKEE BREWS TAKE 18 TO 0 LACING FROM AA ALL-STARS

Pick of League Jumps on Pitchers To Smack Out 20 Hits.

By The Associated Press

MILWAUKEE, July 27—Those loyal Milwaukee baseball fans still were wondering today if it was their beloved Brewers who absorbed that 18 to 0 pasting last night in the American association's 10th All-Star feature.

Their Brewers have dominated the league since the start of the season, and one at a time the other seven clubs have been able to do so little with them that Casey Stengel's team leads the circuit by 10½ games over second-place Louisville.

Last night the All-Stars, an aggregation selected by the league's baseball writers, were the guys the Brewers were supposed to be. The Stars belted five Brewer pitchers for 20 hits and were led by Boris (Babe) Martin, Toledo's muscular outfielder, who banged out two singles, two doubles and a triple in six times at bat; Nick Poliy, Louisville infielder and Fred Walters, the Colonels catcher. They batted in 12 of the 18 runs.

The All-Star pitching matched the slugging in effectiveness. Mel Deutsch, husky Louisville right-hander, allowed two hits, one a double, by Don Hendrickson, third of the Brewer pitchers. Kenny Burkhart of Columbus, gave up two singles in his three innings, and Vernon Curtis, Minneapolis' righthander who is due to enter the Navy soon, permitted one single in the last three innings.

A triple-play, executed in the third with the aid of some fuzzy base-running, chilled the Brewers' only offensive gesture.

The Association has no games scheduled today.

Yankee Donald's Hex on Tribe As He Wins 12 of 13 Games

By The Associated Press

If Joe McCarthy ever gets those New York Yankees up for a fourth straight American league pennant, Swampy Donald's black magic over Cleveland and St. Louis will come in for a lion's share of the credit.

The lean righthanded screwball artist from Louisiana's swamp lands is just another pitcher against most of the clubs but he has beaten the Indians 12 out of 13 starts since hitting the big show and drubbed the Brownies in 11 of 14 tries.

Although Donald's "hex" against St. Louis has shown signs of weakening in splitting four games with the Browns in 1944, the evil eye treatment still holds against the Indians. With the help of homers by Snuffy Stirnweiss and Oscar Grimes, Donald turned Cleveland last night for the 12th straight time by a 6-3 score before 25,483 pennant-minded Tribe followers. Jim Bagby suffered his first loss.

Six war fund games yesterday, including the Cleveland frays with gifts in Chicago, St. Louis, New York, Brooklyn and Philadelphia, upped the major league war contribution for 1944 to $448,[illegible] with a Cincinnati at Boston doubleheader Sept. 24 still to be counted.

Jack Kramer finally hit the 10-win mark as the Brownies shaded Philadelphia 4-2 although they hit 11 to 6 to protect the 3½ game St. Louis lead over New York.

Boston and Detroit were halted by rain in the eighth for a 1-1 tie and Chicago staged a two-run spurt in the last of the ninth to top Washington, 4-3, as 10,678 customers, including Commissioner K. M. Landis, sat through a 1 hour, 22 minute-storm that interrupted play in the second.

Pittsburgh took over second place in the National's most exciting race by trimming the New York Giants 6-5 behind Fritz Ostermueller as Cincinnati split with Boston.

Brooklyn fell into the cellar by losing to Chicago 4-1 as Boston beat Bucky Walters 9-2 in the first game. Cincinnati grabbed the nightcap from the Braves 6-5 for Harry Gumbert's 8th triumph.

Danny Litwiller was the hero of St. Louis, 8-6 nod over the Phils by clouting a three-run homer in the eighth and scoring the winning run in the tenth.

NEWARK LENGTHENS MARGIN OF LEAD

Marion and Newark, at opposite ends of the Ohio State league standings, were the only teams that made any gains in last night's league games.

Newark strengthened its hold on the top position by defeating the second-place Springfield team to put a margin of two and one-half games between them. Newark won the game, 5 to 4.

Marion's 9-8 victory over Zanesville was the only other game played last night, and it gave last-place Marion a little boost in the standings.

The Lima - Middletown game was rained out.

Line score of the Newark-Springfield game follows:

		R.	H.	E.
Newark	300 000 200	5	8	2
Springfield	000 000 121	4	12	2

"The Fabric is the Soul of this COOL Suit"

Lined With *Boteen . . . A *Celanese Rayon Fabric

The combination of a fabric firm enough to hold its shape, yet light and porous enough to keep you cool is not an easy combination to achieve. Botany has done it - - - magnificently. And Daroff has tailored this marvelous fabric in a way that is just about as miraculous as the cloth itself. Frankly, we've never seen a tropical to approach it. You'll be just as enthusiastic - - - when you see, and wear - - - The Botany "500" Tropical - - - Tailored by Daroff.

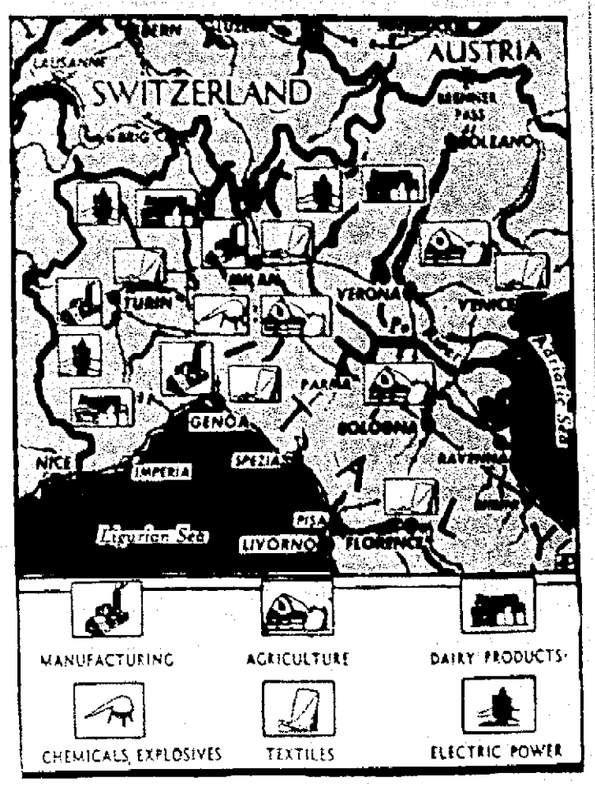
Allies Are Going To Town



Italy's rural sections, it's famed watering places and tourist spots lie largely behind Allied armies as they press into the highly industrialized and heavily populated areas to the north. Here is the heart of Italian industry, the center of its communications with Germany. Repeated attacks by Allied bombers undoubtedly have cut production of war materials, but earlier in the war, the region produced the bulk of chemicals, explosives, metals and textiles for Italo-German use.

Disappearance of 35 Sheep Investigated

Investigation of the disappearance of 35 sheep belonging to Fred Thompson of three miles west of Morral is being conducted by Sheriff J. W. Harruff and his deputies. The sheep either strayed or were stolen from the pasture some time between last Thursday when Mr. Thompson visited the pasture and Tuesday afternoon when he reported their disappearance to the officers.

Dairy Herd Subject of Magazine Article

R. W. Zieg, operating a farm in Pleasant township about five miles south of Marion, won praise for the dairy herd he has developed, in an article in the July issue of The Ayrshire Digest, monthly publication of the Ayrshire Breeders' association. The article cites the milk production record of a herd built around Vel-Ayer Pearl and her seven daughters and granddaughters, all of which were included in the nine cows that won the Constructive Breeder Award for their owner. "The classification score for the nine head in the average was .870, which is the highest score given to date to females that quality for this award," the article stated. A photograph of the Zieg herd was reproduced in an illustration accompanying the article about Mr. Zieg.

CLEVELAND PLANTS PAY HIGHEST WAGES

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 27—Wage-earners in Cleveland manufacturing plants received the highest average weekly pay last year of factory workers in Ohio's eight large metropolitan areas.

This announcement was made today by Ohio State university's bureau of business research, which reported that Cleveland manufacturers paid workers an average of $56.28 a week, Dayton was a close second with $56.20 and Columbus lowest with $43.16.

Wages in the other five cities were: $54.05 in Toledo, $53.88 in Akron, $49.54 in Canton, $48.42 in Youngstown and $44.34 in Cincinnati.

Cleveland wage earners not only received the most pay in 1943, but their wages also increased the most from 1941 to 1943.

The average "real earnings" in the eight municipalities, with the take home pay" adjusted for changes in the cost of living, have risen in Akron from $37.49 in 1941 to $46.37 in 1943; Canton, $37.20 to $42.63, Cincinnati, $32.43 to $37.93; Cleveland, $36.90 to $48.19; Columbus, $29.18 to $37.14; Dayton, $39.86 to $47.95; Toledo, $37.20 to $43.86, and Youngstown, $36.82 to $41.53.

However, these increases in real wages paid do not necessarily indicate an increase in real spendable income because no allowance was made for increase in taxes, the bureau explained.

County Budget Total Lower

$255,220 Estimated for 1945 Considerably Under This Year's Figure; Public Hearing Next Thursday.

County officials estimate their 1945 operating expenses at $255,220 in a budget that has been given preliminary approval by the county commissioners, subject to final action after a public hearing set for next Thursday at 11 a. m. in the commissioners' office.

This figure is one of the lowest in recent years, and compares with $298,293.50 spent in 1943 and $278,574.69 for 1944 (actual expenditures first six months and estimated expenses for the last half of year).

The proposed budget provides for normal expenses of the various county offices and departments and the $255,220 total leaves a comfortable cushion of more than $50,000 between that amount and estimated 1945 receipts totaling $310,618.

The anticipated receipts include an estimated $47,258 balance at the start of the year, $170,000 in general property taxes, $43,000 from county office fees, $200,000 from fines and costs and miscellaneous receipts and $175,000 from the state sales tax.

Reductions General

The reductions in the budget this year are largely represented by small decreases scattered throughout the various departments. One large reduction was in the care of tubercular patients, for which an estimated $10,000 less will be required as a result of the county having paid its overdue obligations to the state for that purpose. One item of expense this year that is not anticipated for next year was $5,920 for the construction of a new horse barn at the fairgrounds to replace one destroyed several weeks ago by fire.

Election costs in 1945 are expected to be down somewhat from this year's total which include extra expenses due to a presidential election. The budget lists $10,000 for personal service and $2,500 for other election expenses for next year, the two figures representing a reduction of $2,650 from this year's total.

Hearing Open To Public

At the public hearing next Thursday, any taxpayer may make suggestions for changes in the budget, and interested persons may examine the budget in detail at the commissioners' office between now and that date.

It is expected representatives of the Ohio and Marion Chambers of Commerce will appear before the board at the hearing to represent the results of their recent studies of the budget.

The county budget, along with those of the city, schools, townships and villages, will be presented to the county budget commission to be used as the basis of computing real estate tax rates for next year. The budget commission is composed of the county auditor, county treasurer and prosecuting attorney.

WHEAT PRICE DROPS AS DEMAND LAGS

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, July 27—The commercial demand for wheat futures today and prices dropped fractions today and prices dropped fractions tapered off in late trading from the day's best figures under the pressure of scattered selling, some of which was regarded as hedging.

The rye market was nervous, prices breaking under moderate selling after short covering had been completed and quotations had advanced a cent or more.

Oats were firm, reflecting buying for a house with cash connections and short covering. Offerings of cash oats for delivery at Chicago have been small, market sources reported, and interior points are bidding higher prices.

Stocks Settle Down to Off-Side Jog After Buying Lags.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 27—Stocks generally settled down to an off-side jog in today's market after a little selective purchasing at the start failed to follow through.

The ticker tape frequently loafed and dealings were among the slowest for the past several months.

In the losing ranks most of the time were Bethlehem, Santa Fe, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Anaconda, U. S. Steel and General Motors. Occasional gainers were American Telephone, Du Pont and J. I. Case.

FRENCH PATRIOTS DEFEAT NAZI TANKS

By The Associated Press

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, July 27—French patriots have defeated German tank attacks in ambushes and are continuing successful warfare against the foe, the supreme command said today in a communique from an advanced command post.

Patriot forces annihilated a German convoy of 116 trucks in the Sneene-Et Loire department, the bulletin declared.

The German attacks aimed at liquidating Maquis areas have taken the form of raids by armored columns, it added, but since July 15 the French forces of the interior have repelled such attempts.

In Normandy and other areas enemy lines of communication have been disorganized by blows against railway systems.

In the Pyrenees, resistance forces attacked a column of armored cars and artillery so successfully the Germans were "forced to bring up reinforcements in order to avoid complete defeat," the communique declared.

Locks on important canals, particularly in the north and east, have been destroyed, interfering with transport of fuel, and "barges carrying 100,000 gallons of oil and fuel have been blown up and petrol depots and convoys have been destroyed in the Nievere" department, the bulletin added.

With only one per cent of the world's population, Canada in 1939 held fifth place in world trade, fourth in exports and eighth in imports. With present expansion in agricultural production, export markets will be vital to Canada's postwar economy, according to D. M. Johnson of the Canadian National Railway department of colonization and agriculture.

Physicians in the United States used electronically-produced fever machines on more than 300,000 patients in 1943.

GENERALS

Goebbels in his speech last night.
The propaganda minister, without mentioning names, said one general "up to then had been prominent only for sabotaging all decisions in the war."
Goebbels said a certain colonel general "had hysterical breakdowns" and that another colonel general conducted a "cowardly retreat" on the Russian front.
How Olbricht, Beck and Hoepner tallied with the propagandists descriptions was not immediately made known.

stand in its drive for the presidency.
The New York governor read notes on a yellow paper, his cigaret holder angled high, which he said were the results of a long conference with Bricker which lasted until 2 a. m. today.

Cover Whole Field

The two covered the whole field of "friction" between local and federal governing agencies, Dewey said, and in addition discussed plans for the political campaign itself.
Dewey declined, however, to make public any of their discussions in that connection and would not disclose the date on which an active speaking campaign may begin.
Dewey evaded questions as to whether Wendell L. Willkie, 1940 nominee, would figure in this year's campaign, but said he and Bricker discussed "the participation by a number of people."
Asked if the Ohio governor and he had had any disagreement, Dewey replied:
"We found ourselves in disagreement on nothing."
Dewey disclosed that five members of his New York state cabinet had joined with him in preparing rough drafts covering most of the subjects which he said he G.O.P. governors would study at St. Louis.
Out of the Dewey-Bricker conference also came indications that first attacks of the Republicans' version of a political campaign flying bomb would be aimed at Democratic strongholds on the fringes of Dixie and in the middle west.
of Dixie and in the middle west.
Plotting the curves for a barrage expected to get under way early next month, the Republican presidential and vice presidential nominees were reported in agreement that the G.O.P. ought to carry a vigorous general campaign not only to the so-called border states but should bid strongly for labor support at the same time.
Dewey, the No. 1 man, will put a part of this strategy in effect next week when he journeys to politically-doubtful Missouri for a conference with the other 25 Republican governors at St. Louis, where Robert E. Hannegan, Democratic national chairman, used to be the opposition organization leader.

First Visit Since 1941

The Dewey invasion of the home state of Sen. Harry S. Truman, Democratic vice presidential nominee, will be the New York governor's first visit to that territory since he spoke for the U.S.O. in St. Louis in 1941. He campaigned the state in 1940 before the Republican convention and spoke there later for Wendell L. Willkie, that year's nominee.
Bricker, who scheduled a conference in New York today with national Chairman Herbert Brownell Jr. after an overnight visit at the executive mansion, may carry the brunt of the G.O.P. drive in seven key states where he predicted the Republicans will "put up a good campaign."
In two of these states, Missouri and Kentucky, the Republicans have a foothold with the governorship. Others he listed includes Oklahoma, Tennessee, North Carolina, Virginia and Maryland.
Bricker told a mansion porch press conference yesterday that labor has "been rapidly coming over to our side."

Welcomes G.O.P. Support

Asked if he would welcome the support of President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers, Bricker replied:
"We welcome all support that goes to the Republican ticket."
"I do," he continued, looking at Dewey who sat on a sofa with him. "I suppose everybody would." Dewey said nothing.
Bricker was asked if the same theory applied to Gerald L. K. Smith, head of America First, Inc., whose backing Dewey previously refused. The Ohio governor replied that if Smith "votes the Republican ticket, his vote would count the same as anybody else's."
To an inquiry as to whether he agreed, Dewey replied he was not discussing the matter. He also turned aside questions about a statement of Rep. Hamilton Fish (R-NY) that Fish would support the G.O.P. national ticket. Dewey had said two years ago that if he were a resident of Fish's district he would not vote for the congressman.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

"ALL READY, sir," I told my father, and while Jack set before the formulae I had read to him, gazing at them with some thing of the rapt expression a devotee gives to an idol. I dictated slowly the code words which had followed the formulae.

He wrote them down, then looked up at me with more than fulness than impatience in his manner.

"Would you mind repeating those words?" he said. "I want to be sure that I transcribed them correctly."

Frightened

"Of course not, Father," I told him, and slowly repeated the words. But even as my lips and tongue and throat muscles moved, in mechanical repetition, I was conscious of a frightened tugging at my heart strings.

For that appeal in his voice was something entirely new to me. Did it stem from the first acute premonition of failing powers of mind which comes sooner or later to people of advanced age?

For years my father's physical health has been a source of worry to me. But he has been such a giant of mental strength, of resourcefulness and of ingenuity that I cannot think of him as old. Nor can I wonder at the action of his government in calling him back into active service along with other old giants, and lesser men, but unusually capable in their respective lines, who have been given a new lease of life by the realization that they still have much to offer their country.

I knew that to me it would seem like the end of my world to have my father's wonderful mental machinery begin to creak, though ever so slightly, at the joints. But I never had heard him speak in just that tone before, nor had I ever seen just that expression in his eyes, almost frightened, it seemed to me for the moment, although the next I recalled Dicky's frequent admonition not to "work my imagination overtime."

And when, after I had repeated the words, my father said: "Thank you, Margaret," with his usual composure, and went back to his code book in exactly his ordinary manner, I comforted myself with two facts: that he must be extremely fatigued after his strenuous activities of the night, and that I, myself, was extremely tensed and nervous, ready to imagine anything.

Neither Jack nor I spoke again. He was busy with paper and pencil, evidently making computations from the figures I had given him. And I, with hands folded, let my imagination rove far afield, wondering what important discovery or project, on the eve of completion, was to be given into Jack's hands.

Know Little More

I soon found out, however, that I was to know little more than the infinitesimal details which already were mine. When my father finally lifted his head from the paper on which he had been transcribing words from his code book, evidently matching them with the ones Hugh had sent him, his eyes were glowing.

"Lad," he said, "I agree with you. This is terrific,—epoch-making. Read this."

He pushed over the paper on which he just had been writing, and Jack seized it avidly. Then my father turned to me.

"Margaret, dear," he said, "do you remember what Katharine said to Jack about knowledge of the highly important thing upon which he was working when he so nearly gave up his life for it?"

"Yes, indeed I remember," I answered, "and I shared her belief."

"I know you did," he said, "and I am going to ask a similar action on your part now. I know—nobody knows better,—that it is an unjust request. You have borne the burden so nobly of saving Hugh and Lee Chow from those Nazi agents, and getting this data to us, that you are entitled to know everything concerning it.

Vital Information

"But," he went on, "this is so vital that only those who must know about it in order to carry on, ought to have any knowledge of it. Enemy eyes will be searching, enemy minds will be conjecturing, as to what men and women possess any data concerning it.

"From now on, the problem of completing the work which Hugh has sent to us through you will be Jack's."

"The brilliant mathematical mind!" I said to myself half mockingly, but needless to say I did not utter the words aloud.

"Therefore," my father went on, "I must ask your forgiveness for not telling you anything more. So I will take you over to your suite."

"Just a minute," Jack struck in. "Haste is imperative, in this, isn't it, Redmond? Wasn't that what Hugh implied?"

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

Infections and Phlebitis

I do not know how to account for the sudden interest in phlebitis, but, judging from the number of requests in my fail to discuss the subject, it seems to have come to the notice of a good many people.

Phlebitis means an inflammation of a vein. The veins usually involved are those of the leg—the most dependent part of the body and, therefore, the part where the large veins have the blood moving the most sluggishly. Since the veins are always filled with blood when an infection strikes them it results almost instanter in clotting of the blood. So a phlebitis really is a thrombophlebitis—thromus being the word for a clot inside a blood vessel.

Phlebitis occurs almost always during convalescence from a surgical operation, or childbirth, or lying in bed following a broken bone, or accident of some kind. It occurs occasionall in varicose veins, but not as often as the favorable circumstances which that condition presents would lead one to expect. Phlebitis also is one of the complications of infectious diseases, particularly typhoid fever, but with the practical disappearance of typhoid that variety is nearly eliminated. Pneumonia is the next most frequent infections cause in phlebitis.

How does the infection get to the vein? Since the inside of the vein is well protected from the outside world it must be infection already in the blood stream. Sometimes it is very easy to see how this occurs, sometimes very difficult.

After childbirth the womb is large and soft and it lies right over the big veins in the pelvis into which the leg veins drain. The uterus is at this stage boggy and very frequently there are remains of septic material in it. It is to prevent the presence of this septic material that the modern obstetrician is so careful with his technique of cleanliness. But in spite of all precautions, sometimes slight sepsis does occur. And this lying over the pelvic vein, or perhaps carried by the general circulation to the sluggish veins in this condition infects their inside wall, causes the phlebitis.

It is not always so easy to account for all the cases of phlebitis following surgical operation, but any wound is liable to have septic material in it, no matter how meticulous the precautions against such accidents, and this septic material wandering through the blood vessels finds the veins in the legs of a person lying in bed the ideal spot for setting up inflammation.

A phlebitis may be acutely dangerous, even fatal, in the production of an embolus in the lung—a small clot of blood which detaches itself from the main clot in the veins of the leg and wanders around until it reaches a vessel so small it cannot get through so lodges there—and usually this is the lung.

Most cases of phlebitis get well, but the remote consequences are not always pleasant. Natures' method of cure is to cause the clot in the vein to become hard like scar tissue and then to canalize it with little vein channels. These canals perform the function of the vein which is to carry the blood back to the heart, but they do not work as well as the original model, and the person is likely to have the affected leg swell up on any unusual exertion. It even gets permanently larger than its fellow.

Surgeons and obstetricians are making every effort to prevent this disagreeable and dangerous complication. Since one of the factors seems definitely to be rest, it is the modern custom to get the surgical patient or the convalescent mother out of bed earlier than the old two week standard. Many surgeons approve getting the patient up on the fourth post-operative day.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

A. L. H.: In Walter Winchell's column he said—"A Cleveland doctor says the underlying cause of hay fever IS known—calcium and iodine deficiency combined with wrong diet. If sufferers would correct their mineral deficiency and start doing it in May they would have no hay fever this summer.

A.: Mr. Winchell has not received his M. D. yet, but is still a medical student. Medical students often make mistakes. This is one of his. Those ideas were exploded before Mr. Winchell's home town, Brooklyn, had a baseball team, and have been exploded about every two years since.
